Board Votes Marincello Zone Delay

Dobbs Timetable Asked For Area Master Plan

By FRANK FARRARA

The battle over development of Marincello, a proposed city of 25,000 in Southern Marin, opened before the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday with a clash on zoning.

Conservationists made a strong bid to halt requested rezoning to planned community of the 2,138-acre city site on the Golden Gate headlands west of Sausalito.

After hearing from conservationists, attorneys for Frouge Corp., the developers, and Planning Director B. D. Dobbs, supervisors postponed action on the zoning for two weeks.

The vote to delay was 3-2, with Supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and William A. Gnoss opposing. It came after a motion by Kettenhofen to grant the rezoning was superceded by a substitute motion by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker calling for the delay.

Planning Director Dobbs recommended planned community zoning be granted. He said it would not constitute approval of plans for the development.

"If we had never heard of Marincello, I would still recommend planned community zoning," Dobbs said.

The planning commission has approved the rezoning 6-0.

Mayor Michael Wornum of Mill Valley contended the zoning decision was vital. He said it was a decision as to whether there would be a city on the site.

Wornum said he did not see how the board could make a decision without a master plan for Southern Marin.

Peter D. Whitney of Inverness, executive director of the Committee to Save the Golden Gate, urged that the zoning request be returned to the planning commission and action be deferred until a master plan is developed for Southwest Marin.

After the hearing, the board directed Dobbs to estimate the cost and time required for preparation of a Southwest Marin Master Plan by outside consultants.

At the morning sessions, Leydecker had urged countywide master planning and said it is imperative master plans be supported by zoning. Dobbs was directed to prepare a report on the status of master planning in the county and submit it to the board Feb. 16.

Attorney E. Warren McGuire, representing Frouge Corp., said the planned community zoning would give the board a chance to review the project, and would

Supervisors Set Rehearing On Districts

Supervisorial redistricting is not a closed issue.

Marin County supervisors agreed yesterday to take another look, in a special meeting Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center, at the redistricting plan adopted last month.

Chairman Peter H. Behr asked for the meeting after receiving two letters critical of the redistricting and county counsel's advice that the board has not yet completed the legal requirements.

The decision was induced, in part, by the troubles of a handfull of residents of Marshall in northwest Marin.

A letter from Mrs. Lois Parks, clerk of the Tomales Bay School District board asked reconsideration of district boundaries because they split the Marshall precinct between the fourth and fifth supervisorial districts. As a result, the letter said, some voters in the precinct will have to go to Marshall School to vote in school elections and to Point Reyes Station for other elections.

Also before the supervisors was a letter from the San Geronimo Valley Assn. objecting to the redistricting adopted and asking that it be reconsidered.

According to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, the state redistricting law requires further action by the board by April 30. The board can either adopt a resolution stating that the redistricting meets the equal population requirements of the law or readjust the boundaries by that date, Maloney said.

The law requires that the supervisorial districts be nearly enough equal in population so that no two districts contain more than half the county total.

'Conservation' Stacked Deck Is Charged

Scott, Wachsman Give Opinion On Ousters

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Loss of three members of the Marin County Planning Commission in yesterday's shuffle by the board of supervisors has left a stacked deck in favor of the "conservation lobby," two of the ousted members charged today.

George R. Scott of Mill Valley and Edward K. Wachsman of San Rafael made the charge. The third man dropped, Henry C. Hankins of Inverness Park, tended to be more philosophical.

Scott said he was probably removed from office because the union he formerly served as business representative and secretary, Painters Union Local 83, opposed Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker in the recent election and because his votes on the commission during the 10 years he served on it sometimes upset the "conservation element.

ALWAYS SOUGHT

Scott said the board's action replacing him with Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon, a former commission member, was ample evidence of the conservationist switch.

"That woman and I always fought when we served on the commission together," Scott said.

Wachsman continued to charge that the commission switch was strictly political, though Leydecker has denied it. Wachsman worked against Leydecker in the recent campaign.

"The composition of the majority of the commission has been changed from the group who may have been categorized as sympathetic to the property owners' rights to the conservation group," Wachsman said.

"ORGANIZED LOBBY"

He said Scott, Hankins and he had always made efforts to recognize rights of the property owners. He said the conservation group is "an organized lobby" in Marin County.

Hankins said the board had simply "exercised its prerogative" in ousting him from the commission. He promised to continue taking active interest in civic affairs.

"If something is right, it will get my support. If something is

Gas Chamber Abolition Bill Drops Into Senate Hopper

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The first measure of the session to abolish the death penalty in California was introduced today by Sen. John Holmdahl, D-Oakland.

Holmdahl said he favored retaining capital punishment but it was time to let the people decide.

His constitutional amendment also would allow judges and juries to sentence murderers to prison without possibility of parole. At present, there is a chance of parole in all life sentences.

Holmdahl said it as time for "a policy expression by the public and for an end to the decades of earnest and emotional controversy."

If the measure passes the legislature by a two-thirds vote of each house, which seems unlikely, it will appear on the Nov. 1, 1966, ballot.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said he would support abolishment of capital punishment in his message to the legislature. Assemblyman Lester McMillan, D-Los Angeles, already has announced he will introduce a bill to repeal the death penalty.

There have not been any executions in California for two years because of court actions and clemency by the governor. There are 49 men on San Quentin's death row under stays of execution or awaiting appeals.

Johnson Takes Oath, Urges War On Poverty, Ignorance

Humphrey Sworn In; Sharp, Cold Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson took the presidential oath amid stirring ceremony today—and solemnly pledged that: "I will lead as best I can."

"Preserve, protect and defend the Constitution."

Then came the inaugural address, and the chief executive summoned the nation to a war on poverty and ignorance.

He called these things an enemy to justice, and predicted:

"Before this generation of Americans is finished, this enemy will not only retreat—it will be conquered."

Hatred too must go, he said, racial divisions at home and dangerous suspicions among the nations.

DOT OF EARTH

For, he said: "We are all fellow passengers on a dot of earth. And each of us, in the span of time, has only a moment among his companions."

On this sharp cold, but not unbearable day, Hubert Horatio Humphrey, the Johnson companion in last November's enormous election sweep, was the first to take the oath.

At 11:57 a.m., Humphrey raised his hand and swore that "so help me God" he would faithfully discharge the duties of vice president. The oath was administered by House Speaker John W. McCormack. Humphrey laid grave stress on the words "so help me God."

Then he shook hands with the President, and kissed Mrs. Humphrey.

HOLDS BIBLE

Then came the President's turn. And here came a heart-tugging change in the schedule. An official of the congressional committee on the inauguration had been scheduled to hold the Bible.

But the person who did hold it was Lady Bird Johnson, clad in gorgeous American Beauty red. She looked very proud; tears glistened in her eyes.

As her husband, mandated now in his own right to lead the nation, delivered his address the First Lady sat listening intently, her hands folded in her lap.

The schedule had called for the President to raise his hand in the age-old oath-taking cere-

Dixie Sheriff Arrests 200 More Negroes

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Sheriff James G. Clark arrested an estimated 200 Negroes today after they refused to enter the Dallas County Courthouse through an entrance designated by the sheriff.

The Negroes had marched to the courthouse in an effort to register to vote.

Clark told them that they could enter the building through one of two entrances and he did not order them into an alley as he had yesterday when 66 were arrested.

The Negroes said they wanted to enter through the door near the sheriff's office.

"You are here to deliberately cause trouble," the sheriff said. "You came here as an unlawful assembly. The Board of Registrars is down at this entrance. That's the front door of the courthouse."

Clark said the entrance he wanted the Negroes to use was considered the front door although there is little difference in the two entrances. The door which the Negroes wanted to use opens to the main corridor

Smog Official Stands Firm On Devices

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The chairman of the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board replied to critics of crank case safeguards today by declaring, "We have the facts and the scientific data to back up our decision."

"We do intend to back up our decisions," William E. Nissen said at the opening of a board meeting to go into suggestions for changes in its legislative program.

"We do not intend to back off this very difficult problem because of rumors or because it's a nuisance.

"It's also a much greater nuisance to breathe the polluted air that exists in the San Francisco Bay area as well as in Southern California."

The board considered a report from its engineering staff that declared a survey showed that nearly all complaints of crank case devices installed in used cars came from faulty enstallation procedures.

McCormack Gives Up Number Two Spot

WASHINGTON (AP) — For House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, today ended a period of almost 14 months during which he stood first in the line of succession to the presidency.

Since President John F. Kennedy's assassination on Nov. 22, 1963, elevated Lyndon B. Johnson to the presidency, the office of vice president has been vacant.

Churchill Spends Peaceful Night

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill slept peacefully through the night but his doctor made an unscheduled visit to his bedside this afternoon.

The reason for the visit of Lord Moran, the aged statesman's physician, was not learned. Whether it portended a new crisis in Sir Winston's condition was a question.

They drove off, in a swirling snowfall, in a car driven by Detective Sgt. Edmund Murray, Sir Winston's private guard and companion, who has been on duty at the residence 18 hours a day since last Friday.

This was only the third time that Lady Churchill has left the house since Sir Winston was stricken.

Lord Moran left the house after spending nearly 40 minutes there. No bulletin was issued immediately.

While Lord Moran was in the house Churchill's daughter, Sarah and Miss Celia Sandys ,a granddaughter, arrived for another visit.

A medical bulletin issued just before noon said:

"There is little to record. The restlessness has gone and Sir Winston has slept peacefully through the night and morning. There will be another bulletin this evening."

It was the 12th bulletin issued since the 90-year-old statesman suffered a stroke last Friday.

"It is possible, I think, to hope for a favorable outcome," said Dr. Harley Williams, director of the Chest and Heart Association, after the bulletin was issued.

"In a man of his terrific vitality what we are told in the bulletin is, in a way, what we might expect," Williams added.

A spokesman for the British Medical Association noted:

"The bulletin did not give any indication of any worsening of Sir Winston's condition."

Throughout the night a shivering crowd kept watch at the end of Hyde Park Gate, the dead-end street where Churchill has lived since 1955.

Women's Club Accepts Terms In Fairfax

About 40 members of the Fairfax Women's Club voted unanimously yesterday to accept terms of the proposed new lease with the city for use of their club building.

An expected dissent by a half dozen members failed to materialize, according to Mrs. Paul Riley, club president.

Under the new lease, proposed earlier this month by the club's attorney, the city would take over rental collection and maintenance, two functions previously carried out by the women.

The club would then be allowed to use the building for its activities free of charge.

INAUGURAL BASHES

Washington, D.C. Lives It Up

By SAUL PETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — High brow, middle and low, the "Great Society" was jumping from fugues to frugs.

On the eve of President Johnson's inaugural, jubilant Democrats had something for everybody — a concert by the National Symphony Orchestra, a numbing round of state receptions, dances, massive cocktail parties and private blasts that were still chorusing today. It was a helluva town to sleep in if you didn't happen to find "The Eyes of Texas" lulling.

Whisky flowed like campaign promises. The mink that flowed through the hotel lobbies would make Miami look like a poor farm. Clearly, even before the main event, inaugural week was already a huge success; the cab drivers were grumbling about the traffic.

The big receptions in the hotels were so big Hubert H. Humphrey temporarily lost his Senate replacement — Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota —in the boiler room of the Shoreham. There and elsewhere, long lines formed at bars, at hat check rooms, at washrooms and elevators.

President Johnson and his family went from the concert to a relatively sedate party at the State Department, where daughter Luci did the Watusi and dad did what historians remember as middle of the road box step.

The Texas State Society had an intimate bash for 2,000 at the Statler. They had 18 bars and enough bourbon to keep the Alamo still holding out.

Tidbits overheard:

"Why, C. P., you old skunk! Who you cheatin' now?"

"Our two daddies were farmers together. They hitched their horses together, they — ."

"My daddy voted for him. Mary Lou's daddy voted for him. We voted for him. Our children will vote for him."

Before they unhitched their Cadillacs and rode off into the night, one got the impression the two-term limit on presidents might soon be in jeopardy.

There were two big dances of Young Democrats at the Mayflower and the Willard, where Lincoln once slept and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" was written.

Last night the poor old Willard was treated to the simple frug, the compounded frug and jerk, the frug and dog, the twist, the swim, the Watusi, the hitchhike, the gesundheit, the cha-cha, the single Lindy, double Lindy and double hernia.

The dancing stopped only long enough for the Hubert Humphreys to make an appearance.

Noting all the expensive gowns, he said: "The President told Mrs. Humphrey tonight, 'Why, Muriel, you have on a pretty new dress every time I see you.'"

The Humphreys left in a roar of applause and the dancing resumed in a swirl of acrobatics that resembled a junior prom in the Congo.

By dawn today, the Young Democrats were old Democrats, and the "Great Society" had a great hangover.

Viet Buddhist Leaders Plan All-Out Fast To Oust Huong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Five top Buddhist leaders are planning to begin a hunger strike tomorrow and will fast until Premier Tran Van Huong quits or they die, Buddhist sources reported today.

Among the five monks reported planning to participate are Thich Tinh Khiet, aging patriarch of Vietnamese Buddhism, and Thich Tam Chau and Thich Tri Quang, the two most powerful Buddhist leaders.

The Buddhists also were planning to close their headquarters compound in Saigon as another gesture of protest. Street demonstrations by monks appeared likely.

The status of Huong's government remained up in the air.

The air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, touched off the latest crisis when he rejected appointment to Huong's Cabinet as minister of youth and sports.

Ky was one of four generals named Monday to Cabinet posts. The generals at first apparently accepted the posts, but then it became clear they were to give up their military jobs. Ky balked and the other three reportedly also changed their minds. An installation ceremony schedule yesterday was postponed indefinitely.

In the war against the Communists, two American advisers were wounded last night and about 45 Vietnamese killed or wounded when the Viet Cong blasted a district outpost 25 miles southeast of Saigon with mortars.

Wife Divorces Sinatra Kidnaper

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Joseph Clyde Amsler, 25, one of three men convicted in the kidnaping of Frank Sinatra Jr., has been divorced by his 21-year-old wife.

Mrs. Amsler

Mrs. Bette Jane Amsler told Superior Court yesterday that before the kidnaping on Dec. 8, 1963:

"He didn't have a job and said he was looking for work, and he wasn't, really. We didn't have any money and we didn't have any food and we were living in someone else's apartment, not ours."

She was awarded alimony of $1 per year and custody of their 8-month-old son, Christian.

Amsler is serving a 25-year-term in the Federal Rehabilitation Center, Lompoc. His accomplices, Barry Worthington Keenan and John William Irwin, are also in prison.

The singer, 21, was kidnaped from a Lake Tahoe motel and released unharmed three days later in Los Angeles, after the elder Sinatra paid $240,000 ransom.

Snow, Cold, Rain Covers U.S.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow, cold and rain covered most of the country today while the Southeast began a slow thaw from temperatures which chilled Florida tourists.

Strong winds and snow swept an area from upstate New York to Minnesota as a vigorous low-pressure system passed north of the Great Lakes.

Squalls deposited up to four inches of snow in western New York State. Buffalo reported one inch of new snow late yesterday.

The season's first cold snap for Florida apparently ended as temperatures ranged from 56 in Jacksonville to 68 in Miami.

Alcatraz Pushed As Monument

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Missouri senator joined Rep. Jeffery Cohelan (D-Calif.), today in proposing that Alcatraz Island in San Francisco Bay be turned into a memorial to the United Nations.

Sen. Edward V. Long, Democratic chairman of the Senate subcommittee on federal penitentiaries, introduced legislation calling for conversion of the former maximum security prison.

A similar measure was introduced in the House by Cohelan.

Long, who headed a commission on the disposition of Alcatraz, said the island could be used as a memorial to the founding of the U.N. in San Francisco at "minimum expense to the taxpayers."

U.S. Puts Russia On The Carpet Over Leakage From Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States sought a "full explanation" from Russia today on a Soviet nuclear test which has sent traces of radioactivity over the northern Pacific.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk summoned Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin to the State Department yesterday to ask about the Soviet blast which occurred Jan. 15 in the Semipalatinsky area of eastern Russia.

The nuclear test ban treaty signed in August, 1963, by Russia and the United States, and later by more than 100 other nations, forbids nuclear tests in the atmosphere, outer space and underwater.

If permits tests underground but only if they do not cause radioactivity to spread outside the country involved. Normally, underground tests do not do this.

But, according to the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) the Soviet tests "vented." This term means that an underground explosion blows through the surface of the earth into the atmosphere.

U.S. air sampling planes detected radioactivity in the atmosphere over the northern Pacific yesterday, apparently near Japan.

Technically, this would be a violation of the 1963 treaty. But until it gets further information the State Department was not making that charge formally.

Officials stressed that the radioactivity measure so far is not a danger to health. They said the amount was too small even to show up on devices normally used for measuring radiation health hazards.

But the traces of fallout—dangerous politically more than physically—may settle on Japan and later drift over the United States.

U.S. officials made it clear they would not want to see the test ban treaty, which was the first major breakthrough in the cold war, become void.

They said the venting could have been an accident.

Farm Employers Must File Wage Reports

Marin County farm employers must file contribution returns and reports of agricultural wages paid their employees for the fourth quarter of 1964 by Feb. 1, according to a State Department of Employment official.

Charles J. Brady, auditor in charge for the state employment office in San Rafael, said penalty and interest charges may be imposed if the report is filed after the deadline.

wrong, they are going to hear from me," Hankins said.

Some of Hankins' neighbors were more aroused, charging the board of supervisors with slighting their opinions.

Petitions backing Hankins and urging the board to rescind its mass resignation order were turned into the county clerk Friday with 513 signatures.

The petitions were not mentioned yesterday during the board's discussion.

"Can the supervisors ignore us like this?" asked Waldo Giacomini of Point Reyes Station, one of several who circulated petitions.

Scott, Wachsman and Hankins had to be removed from the commission by board action yesterday because they refused to submit resignations.

New members of the commission, in addition to Mrs. Azevedo, are Harry Heifetz of San Rafael to replace Wachsman and Hugh Dougherty of Stinson Beach to replace Hankins.

Burglaries Reported; $370 Stolen

Four burglaries — one netting intruders $370 cash — and one attempted burglary were reported today by Marin County sheriff's officers.

Nelson H. Bennion, owner of Tiburon Quick Clean, 1679 Tiburon Boulevard, told deputies $370 was taken from an office desk early Monday after a locked side door was jimmied. Also taken, he reported, were keys to vending machines.

Nanya A. Baker, 40 Mountain Lane, Mill Valley, told officers someone entered her unlocked porch over the weekend and took a radio, a stereophonic set, and a telescope, total value of $300.

Kenneth Irving, co-owner of DeLaMontanya Restaurant, San Geronimo Valley Drive, reported someone pried open an east window Sunday and took about $43 in currency from the bar.

The bills, he said, bore opening-night customer's signatures and were kept as souvenirs. The cash register was not disturbed, he added.

Jean A. Burton, owner of Creative Merchandisers, Inc., 295 Jacoby Street, San Rafael, said burglars pried a side window of the firm—probably Monday—and took $15.37 cash from the register.

Deputies said an attempt was also made to enter the nearby Graham Lumber and Hardware Co., 279 Jacoby Street, by prying at two side doors.

Fourteenth Amendment May Kill Proposition 14

The equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution will probably be the keystone of legal attacks on California's Proposition 14, attorney Joseph Grodin told the Marin Committee for Fair Play at its annual meeting last night.

Grodin said the law may also be in violation of the section of the constitution delegating police powers to the states.

He questioned whether states can deprive themselves of the power to legislate in an area that is constitutionally provided for. The proposition prohibits future fair housing legislation as well as wiping out former legislation.

Two cases are now pending in California courts where a Negro was evicted by a landlord claiming he was forced to allow the tenant under the Unruh and Rumford Acts, said Grodin.

Julian W. Mack II of Terra Linda was re-elected president of the committee. Other officers elected were: Robert Gibson of Mill Valley, first vice president; Martin J. Rosen of Mill Valley, second vice president; Mrs. Juanita Vincent of Mill Valley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jean Nelson of Strawberry Point, recording secretary; Ulrich Kraemer of Terra Linda, treasurer, and Shirley Starr of San Anselmo, assistant treasurer. Rex Fink of Belvedere and Mrs. Natalie Hawley of Mill Valley were elected to the executive board.

cated that 28 per cent of all installations were improper. However, faulty installations decreased from 50 per cent in Los Angeles County for Jan. 1 to Sept. 10, 1964, to 27 per cent for the remainder of the year.

The engineers said 24 per cent of all motorists who are required to have devices have perjured themselves by signing legally required documents without having a device installed.

The staff recommended repeal of the present affidavit system, replacing it by having auto owners show licensed station certificates showing that the device has been inspected and found to be properly installed and in good operating condition as a condition of annual registration.

Other recommendations:

1. Enforcement by monthly staggering of installation inspections.

2. Laws providing the highway patrol with more authority to police licensed stations.

Mill Valley Planners Are Reappointed

Normand Black and John K. Robinson were reappointed to the Mill Valley Planning Commission Monday night by the city council.

The council also reappointed Dean Meyer to the parks and recreation commission, but took no action to fill vacancies on that commission left by resignation of Mrs. William B. Allen and expiration of the term of Thomas Lathrop.

Transit Area Manager To Be Hired

Marin County supervisors moved yesterday toward hiring a project manager for the Marin Transit District.

The board authorized County Administrator Alan Bruce to negotiate with A. A. Smith, of San Rafael, retired manager of commuter operations for Greyhound Bus Lines, for the post.

Bruce said a project manager should be retained to develop a public transportation program.

The board endorsed the recommendation of Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, that bus tolls on the Golden Gate Bridge be reduced from $1 to 13 cents.

If the bridge board accepts the bus toll reduction, supervisors said they would withdraw their objection to a rate increase sought by Greyhound, but only if Greyhound agrees "to an offset equivalent to the reduction in bridge tolls.

Parked Auto Hit, Driver Injured

A San Anselmo man suffered a cut lip at 1:35 a.m. today when his car ran into a parked auto at 526 Third Street, San Rafael.

Police said a westbound sedan driven by Paul L. Delchini of 123 San Francisco Boulevard hit a car owned by Coldwell-Banker Co. of San Francisco. The parked car moved forward 12 feet, knocking down a "no parking" sign.

Delchini was distracted by Delchini was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

Warrant Issued In Bail Jumping

Bench warrant for arrest of Ricardo A. Sanchez, 21, was issued yesterday in Marin Superior Court when he failed to appear on his own recognizance for jury trial on a burglary charge.

Bail was set at $5,000.

Sanchez, of San Francisco, allegedly entered the room of Judith Rubel at Villa Rafael Motel on Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, last July 9 with intent to commit theft.

of the courthouse. The other door opens into a lobby.

Sixty-six persons, most of them prospective Negro voters, were jailed yesterday by Sheriff Clark when they refused to use the alley entrance to the courthouse or to move from the sidewalk.

All were released late yesterday and three civil rights workers were freed of suspicion charges. The others signed their own bonds of $300 each on charges of unlawful assembly or of criminal provocation.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who launched the drive Monday, appealed to the Justice Department for legal steps to bar interference by the sheriff. He said that Justice Department attorney John Doar had pledged cooperation in a telephone conversation.

King left last night for Atlanta and speaking engagements elsewhere.

He promised to return tomorrow to continue the civil rights campaign, his first major one since last summer.

Superintendents Favor Unification

All but one of the school district superintendents in the Tamalpais High School District have voted to back one-district unification at tonight's meeting of the County Committee on School District Organization, Supt. Homer Sisk of Fairfax School District reported last night.

The one dissenter is Edward C. Pino of Reed School District, Sisk said. Pino was absent when the vote was taken but expressed his dissent earlier, Sisk reported.

Sisk is chairman of the superintendents study council of the Tamalpais High School District, which passed the resolution.

Complaint Filed In Robbery Case

An armed robbery complaint was filed today in Marin Municipal Court against J. D. Hall, 39-year-old suspect in the Dec. 20 holdup of Buckeye Restaurant, north of Sausalito.

Hall is being held in San Mateo County Jail for investigation of several Bay area robberies. An estimated $1,653 was taken in the restaurant holdup by two gunmen. Search for a second suspect is still under way.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he would like to consider plans for Marincello in relation to the surrounding area.

Whitney said, "The reason we opposed planned community zoning is that it will tend to prejudge a verdict that should remain open, and that is whether or not this land should be used for a community at all."

Leslie Hood of Mill Valley, cofounder of the Committee to Save the Golden Gate, said supervisors were being asked to "spot zone" the largest unplanned area in Southern Marin.

"Granted it is a large spot, but, in the overall view, it is still spot zoning," Hood said.

Attorney Julius H. Selinger, also representing Frouge Corp., charged that postponing action was "Evasion of the need for facing a decision."

Mass Pupil TB Test Plan Announced

Plans for tuberculin skin testing students in five Marin school districts were discussed yesterday by directors of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

Some 1,200 children in the Sausalito, Bolinas-Stinson, Tomales High, Tomales Bay, Novato and San Jose districts will be tested in mass screening program, inaugurated two years ago.

Tamalpais High School, West Marin and Sausalito School Districts and grades one and nine of San Rafael schools, have been given the tests. Two active cases of tuberculosis, one in a student and one in an adult contact of a positive-reacting student, have been identified by the school testing.

On Feb. 8, the Sausalito district will conduct the first large-scale screening using the tine test. In this, instead of piercing the skin with a needle to inject the tetsing material, a small button with four tiny tines is used for the injection. Needles will be used in other school testing.

This will be Sausalito district's second annual testing of all pupils. For it, only consultation and educational materials are provided by the tuberculosis association.

Testing in the Bolinas-Stinson district is set for Feb. 15, and in the Tomales High Schools and Tomales Bay Elementary School Districts on March 8. Inclusion of Marshall School in the Tomales testing will complete coverage of all West Marin schools.

Only sixth graders will be tested in the Novato and San Jose districts, where extensive classroom education will precede testing on March 1.

Pranks Harass Store's Owner

Francis Edward Hermansky, co-owner of Terra Linda Pharmacy, has reported harrassing telephone calls over a two-week period, Marin County Sheriff's officers said yesterday.

The druggist said the callers, apparently juveniles, often say nothing when he answers, then taunt him with various phrases. He also said two newspaper advertisements, one asking for applicants for a non-existing job at the pharmacy as delivery boy, and a second selling a non-existant hardtop car, have been placed in the Independent-Journal by someone using the pharmacy's telephone number.

The latter ad appeared in newspaper editions Jan. 9 through last Friday, and the other Friday only. Deputies said they are apparently a part of the harrassment, and caused Hermansky difficulty in explaining to persons answering them.

OBITUARIES

Alma M. Maynard Succumbs

Alma Marie Maynard of 221 Jewell Street, San Rafael, her home for 40 years, died yesterday in Burlingame where she was visiting a daughter. She was 69.

She died after a brief illness at the home of Mrs. LaVerne Meitz of Burlingame.

Mrs. Maynard was a native of San Francisco. She was the widow of Frederick C. Maynard a foreman with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for 23 years. He died in 1946.

Mrs. Maynard also leaves another daughter, Mrs. June A. Leary of San Rafael; a brother, Edward Adams of San Rafael, and three grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

A. J. CHRISTIANI

Albert Joseph Christiani, 62, of 39 Angela Avenue, San Anselmo, died unexpectedly last night, the victim of a heart attack.

He collapsed at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Elaine E. Cuneo of 19 Oak Tree Lane, Fairfax, and was taken by ambulance to Marin General Hospital, where he was dead on arrival at 8:45 p.m.

The Marin County coroner's office said Christiani had been watching television. He arose and began walking toward the set to change channels, when he fell to the floor. His daughter then called Fairfax firemen and the ambulance.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said Christiani had a history of heart disorders. The body was taken to the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, for an autopsy.

A native of France, Christiani had lived in California for 56 years and in Marin County one year. He was a self-employed handyman.

Surviving are his wife, Assunta Christiani of San Anselmo; two daughters, Mrs. Cuneo and Mrs. Doris M. Legnitto of Fairfax; a sister, Josephine Caseretto of San Francisco, and a brother, Joseph Christiani of San Rafael.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Halsted and Co., San Francisco.

HENRY HEINE

Henry W. Heine, 68, of San Francisco, a longtime San Rafael resident, died in a local hospital yesterday after a long illness.

A native of San Francisco, he lived in the Bay Area most of his life, including about 30 years in San Rafael.

He returned to San Francisco about 20 years ago.

After a career as a merchant seaman, Heine spent several years as a truck driver, retiring about five years ago.

His wife, Emma Borba Heine, died last May 20.

Surviving are two brothers, Robert H. Hill of San Francisco and John Heine of Ashville, N.C.; two sisters, Mrs. Helen O'Connell of Valley Ford and Mrs. Johanna Duffey of Santa Rosa, and three step-sons, Lincoln M. Borba of San Rafael, Henry Borba of Novato and Edward Borba of Daly City.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Friday at the Daphne San Francisco Funeral Service, 1 Church Street, San Francisco.

DARE MORGAN

Dare Morgan, 80, of 77 Melville Avenue, San Anselmo, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

A native of Oakland, he had lived in Marin County since 1918. He was a member and former treasurer of the Marin County Easter Seal Society and a member of the El Retiro Retreat Assn. of Los Altos.

Morgan retired in 1950 after 43 years with the Southern Pacific Co. He had been a special investigator for the company for 10 years before retirement.

Surviving are his wife, Ysabel McDonald Morgan; two sons, Herbert D. Morgan of Chico, Butte County, and Rev. Dare J. Morgan, S. J., of San Francisco; a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor L. Faulkner of Walnut Creek, and three grandchildren.

Funeral will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Spiritual bouquets or contributions to the Marin County Easter Seal Society are preferred by the family.

BING FONG

Funeral for Bing Fong, 59, owner of the Panama Grocery at 29 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at the Cathay Mortuary, 1213 Powell Street, San Francisco.

Fong was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital Monday after suffering a heart attack at his home at 27 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo.

He had been a resident of Marin County for 42 years.

He came to the United States from China at the age of 17, settling in Marin. He established the Panama Grocery 35 years ago.

The family has been active in the retail business in Marin for many years. One brother, Harry Fong, owns Harry's Market in Fairfax, and another brother, Tom Fong, owns the Fairfax Market.

Fong also leaves his wife, Chew Young Fong of San Anselmo; two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Ping of South San Francisco and Mrs. Moy Quon of San Francisco; a son, Phay Pay Fong of San Francisco, and two grandchildren.

Burial will be in Green Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

IN MEMORIAM

NETTRO, ARTHUR "JIM"—In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, ARTHUR "JIM" NETTRO, who passed away JANUARY 20, 1963.

We often sit in silence
No eyes may see us weep;
But forever in our aching hearts,
His memory we will keep.

The call was short, the shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear;
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still.

'Tis sweet to know we'll meet again,
Where parting is no more;
And that the one we truly loved,
Has only gone before.

The flowers we lay upon his grave,
May wither and decay;
But love for him who sleeps beneath,
Will never fade away.

Tam Senior Is Vying For Negro Scholarship

Joyce Williams, 17, a senior at Tamalpais High School, has been selected as a finalist in the National Achievement Scholarship program for outstanding Negro students.

Miss Williams, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Edward Williams of Fort Baker, is one of 600 finalists in the nation. If she is one of 200 selected, she will be given a full scholarship at the college or university of her choice.

JOYCE WILLIAMS
National finalist

She is a member of California Scholarship Federation, Honor T, the Spanish honor society, vice president of Pai Alpha Tau and an honor student selected by the school yearbook, Pai, for 1965.

Miss Williams is also president of the Tamalpais High Organization for Racial Understanding, a member of the French Club and head of the student government's by-laws committee. Last year she was junior class treasurer and Honor T Society secretary.

She was a finalist in last year's Mill Valley Lions Club speech contest and will enter the Lions contest in Sausalito this year. She was Tamalpais High representative in the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth.

She tutored for the Red Cross last year at Richardson Bay School in Sausalito, has taught Sunday and Bible school at Fort Baker for the past three years, and is assistant Brownie leader at the fort.

Her father works at the fort in the Sixth Army medical laboratory. Miss Williams has an older brother, Richard, who attends College of Marin, and a sister, Deborah, attending Central School in Sausalito. She has lived in Marin four years. Prior to that she and her family lived in Philadelphia, Pa.

Her first choice for college is Lewis and Clark College, Portland, Ore.

16 Tam High Seniors Due Special Honors

Sixteen Tamalpais High School seniors will receive special honors in the 1965 school yearbook, Pai, on the basis of scholastic or athletic leadership.

They are Chuck Collins, Donna Drexler, John Elder, Ron Pederson, Elaine Robba, Shelly Smith, Will Stubblebine, Sandra Richardson, Joan Taylor, Lynn Terwilliger, Ann Treverton and Kess Tuinzing, all of Mill Valley; Joyce Williams of Fort Baker, and Dede Africa, Rob Clear and David Wilkinson of Sausalito.

Walter Castro Estate Valued At Half Million

Walter Rafael Castro, 68, Marin County Board of Supervisors chairman who died July 16, 1963, left a personal and joint tenancy estate valued at nearly half-a-million dollars, according to an inheritance tax appraiser's report filed in Marin Superior Court.

The personal estate is $20,883.77 after funeral and other deductions, and $428,535.89 in joint tenancy with his wife, Fanny, who survived him and resides at 10 Moncada Way, San Rafael.

The former involves about $9,000 in stocks and shares, $12,000 in savings accounts, and approximately $1,200 in cash. The joint tenancy estate involves about $165,000 in stocks and shares, $64,000 in savings, a promissory note worth $27,000, the family home property valued at $65,000, and one-half interest in Fourth Street property in San Rafael, $22,500.

Castro was one of the county's pioneer auto mechanics, opening a garage and auto sales business on Fourth Street in San Rafael. He retired from the garage's management in 1955.

OFFICE SPACE WANTED TO LEASE
BY THE U.S. GOVERNMENT

Approximately 1,800 net usable square feet of ground floor office space for the Social Security Administration in San Rafael, California. Informal negotiated offers will be received until 4:00 P.M. January 28, 1965. For further information contact Mr. George Staczke, General Services Administration, 49 Fourth Street, San Francisco, California, 94103—Phone 556-1375.

Supervisors Receive Alto City Plea Without Comment

The Marin County Board of Supervisors accepted a petition for incorporation of the City of Alto in routine manner yesterday.

Supervisors did not discuss the proposed incorporation, but just referred the petition to the county clerk for checking of signatures.

The petition, carrying 655 signatures, said that if "status quo" were possible the petition would not be before the board.

Incorporation is being requested "because of actions taken by surrounding areas that make this necessary," the petition stated. This referred to a move by Mill Valley to annex a portion of Alto that is included in the proposed new city.

The petitioners said they were satisfied with their present government and services "and if there was any legal way to continue as they are now, without the possibility of losing any part to annexations, these petitions would not be necessary."

The proposed city would include Strawberry, Bel Aire, Harbor Point and Alto.

Marin Butterfat Price Increases

Marin County farmers will start receiving slightly more for milk sold for butter, according to a state marketing order that takes effect throughout the Redwood Marketing area Friday.

Price paid for skim milk will go from 93 cents to $1.25 per hundred weight while price paid for butter fat will go from 68.53 cents a pound to 68.85 cents a pound.

The increases will not bring any change in consumer prices.

Maritime Academy Announcement Issued

Marin youths who want to enter the California Maritime Academy in Vallejo may apply to Assemblyman William T. Bagley at the State Capitol in Sacramento.

Entrance exams will be held soon, Bagley announced. The applicant with the highest passing score will become Assemblyman Bagley's nominee

Water Safety Poster Contest

Prizes totaling $75 will be offered to Marin County high school students entering the fourth annual water safety poster contest sponsored by the Marin County Sheriff's Marine Patrol.

Harold A. Kalkwarf, chairman of the contest, said today that a $50 and $25 savings bond will be the first and second prizes in the contest which closes April 19.

The black and white posters should be mailed or delivered to the patrol in care of Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos in the courthouse in San Rafael, Kalkwarf said.

Dam — Requests congressional authorization of construction of Auburn Dam and Folsom South Canal; SJR 9, Lunardi.

Battery Charge Is Dismissed

Complaint of battery against William Ray Montgomery, 22, filed Dec. 7, was dismissed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on recommendation of the district attorney's office.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Donald E. Paterson gave insufficient evidence as grounds for the recommendation. Montgomery, of Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax, was charged in an alleged fight at Knott Inn Tavern, 300 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, that day. Police said he struck Conrad G. Williams, 25, of Ross, with a pool cue.

State Gets Court Word On Re-Map

LOS ANGELES (AP) — U. S. District Judge Myron D. Crocker has given Gov. Brown, Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch and Secretary of State Frank Jordan until Feb. 17 to show cause why the California Assembly should not be reapportioned.

Yesterday's ruling was in answer to a taxpayers' suit filed last Jan. 4 by Beverly Hills attorney Phill Silver, who questioned constitutionality of a part of the state elections code which calls for 40 senatorial and 80 assembly districts with one member from each.

Silver's suit contended that the requirement violates the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

Last Dec. 3 a three-judge federal panel, including Crocker, ordered reapportionment of the State Senate.

Larkspur Board Rents School Bus Service

The Larkspur School District board last night awarded a contract for 18 months to Patchetts Bus and Transportation Co., Newman, Stanislaus County, for two school buses to serve the district starting next semester.

The bid from the company was $80 a day, or $14,000 for a full year. It was the only bid received on time. Another bid, which arrived late from Marin Transit Co., offered service for $104 a day.

Virginia settlers observed Thanksgiving in 1619, having been told by their London sponsors to keep their day of landing perpetually holy.

Supervisors Urge Fencing For Rest Of Coyote Creek

Marin County Supervisors want fencing along unfenced portions of Coyote Creek for the safety of children.

The board yesterday approved fencing 150 feet of county property along the creek, estimated to cost $500, to be paid by Flood Control Zone 3.

It also authorized County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to prepare an ordinance that would require fencing along about 850 feet of private property.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he has received letters about unfenced areas between Flamingo Road in Tamalpais Valley and Richardson Bay.

The creek is close to homes and from six to seven feet deep when the tide is in, Behr noted.

Property owners along the creek were compensated if they lost fencing during the Coyote Creek project and some "have not seen fit to replace them," Behr said.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

1. Approved new bid opening procedures whereby bids on supplies, equipment, services and construction contracts can be opened at a time and place other than at board meetings.

2. Passed a resolution establishing urban thoroughfare projects for the 1965-66 fiscal year as follows: Larkspur, Magnolia Avenue extension, $15,000; Ross, Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, $26,020; San Rafael, Third Street extension, $61,551, and Sausalito, Bridgeway Boulevard, $35,719, for a total of $138,290.

3. Adopted a resolution, similar to one adopted by Tiburon, urging the Navy and Department of Interior to reach a solution on berthing facilities for oceanographic research at the Bureau of Mines facility at Tiburon.

4. Passed resolution thanking former superior court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., now an appellate court judge, for his service to Marin County, after receiving a letter from Judge Sims commending the quality of public service in Marin.

5. Sold $500,000 in San Rafael Elementary School District bonds to the Bank of America at an interest rate of 3.0343.

6. Accepted a donation of $150 from the Marin County chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Assn. for the recreation program for the handicapped.

7. Delayed action for two week on recommendations of the San Francisco Bay Conservation Study Commission on bay fill.

8. Upheld planning commission denial of a variance sought by Marie Brindel to allow a substandard lot at 475 Wilson Avenue, West Novato.

9. Set Feb. 7-13 as Nursery Education Week at the request of Mrs. Stanley Seiderman of San Anselmo, coordinator of North Bay Nursery Education Week.

Driver Fined $166

George Warren Rust Sr., 61, of 44 Mooring Road, San Rafael, was fined $166 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Jan. 9 by Larkspur police.

City, County Tax Inequities Alleged

Former Mill Valley City Councilman George W. Blackwell has urged county supervisors to correct inequities he declares exist between incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county.

In a letter to Peter H. Behr, chairman of the board of supervisors, Blackwell declared that recent attempts by cities to annex adjacent areas have shown "a complete indictment of the county's policy in supplying urban services to the unincorporated areas without these areas being properly charged.

The property owners in such areas argue against annexation to cities because they will have to pay city taxes for services they can receive "much more cheaply from the county," Blackwell wrote.

He made five suggestions to relieve the problem:

1. Cities have their own planning staffs and city taxpayers should not be asked to support county planning. Last year, Blackwell declared, city taxpayers paid $100,000 for planning of unincorporated areas.

2. The county administrator should make sure that public works does not spend general fund money on improvement of minor streets in rural areas.

3. Unincorporated urban areas should be encouraged to form police districts and not demand police services from the sheriff's department.

4. The county fire department, not specializing in protection against structural fires, should not have to serve urban areas. Fire districts should be encouraged in such areas.

5. The cities should not be charged for cost of the county counsel's office as cities must hire their own legal counsel. Blackwell figures that cities in the county pay about two-thirds of the cost of the county counsel's office, about $54,000.

Copies of Blackwell's letter have been sent to cities in the county for discussion and action. The San Rafael City Council discussed and approved the letter at its meeting Monday.

The letter will be discussed by the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen at its next meeting in Sausalito Jan. 28.

Strep Cases Lead Diseases

Streptococcic infections grounded many Marin residents last week, according to a report from the county health department.

There were 82 cases reported during the week. Forty-five of them were in Novato.

There were 17 cases of measles reported, 15 of mumps and two of gonorrhea.

Promoted To Major

Recently promoted to major was Richard N. Blondin, assistant supply and services officer at Hamilton Air Force Base. Major Blondin, who has more than 17 years active military service, has been assigned to Hamilton since September 1962. He and his wife, Phyllis, live at 398 Westover Circle on the base.

Official Would List Delinquents, Parents

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Should authorities disclose the identities of juveniles arrested for crimes of violence?

Yes, says Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli—who suggests the names of their parents be made public, too.

Bonelli told the Board of Supervisors yesterday:

"I strongly believe that the pattern of juvenile crime, violence and brutality has reached a point when drastic action must be taken to awaken parental responsibility and to prevent juveniles capable of such acts from taking refuge behind the shelter of being minors."

The supervisors asked the newly appointed Los Angeles County Delinquency and Crime Commission to study the possibility of releasing the names of juveniles involved in violent or brutal crimes.

Bonelli said the publicizing of names of such juveniles in Montana has led to a 49 per cent reduction in juvenile cases in two years — and a 75 per cent reduction in juvenile traffic cases.

Sailor Training

James N. Kard, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kard, 55 Billou Street, San Rafael, is undergoing 10 weeks' training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego. He enlisted for a "minority hitch" in the seaman training program at the Navy recruiting office in San Rafael.

Karate Expert Gets 45 Days

Peter Halaula Kalua, 28, arrested Sunday after injuring two police officers when they arrested him on a reckless driving charge, yesterday was sentenced to 45 days in Marin County Jail as condition of an earlier probation.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson told Kalua, of Gate Five, Marinship, the penalty was for violating a 60-day probation term given last Dec. 2 on a Sausalito conviction.

Kalua, a karate expert, still faces the reckless driving charge. He allegedly injured Larkspur Patrolmen George Newman and Raymond DeLeon after crashing his car at Wolfe Grade.

Further proceedings on the new charge are scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Johnson Takes The Oath Of Office

mony at exactly the strike of noon, but it turned out that the time was 12:03.

Just before Johnson took the oath, the Marine Band played "Hail to the Chief" while a 21-gun salute boomed out over the Capitol grounds.

Johnson and his party had traveled to the Capitol in a string of limousines.

He called on his hearers, including millions of Americans watching on every major television network, to "reject any among us who seek to reopen old wounds and rekindle hatreds."

"They stand in the way of a seeking nation."

Unprecedented security precautions, distasteful to the intensely warm and humanity-loving President, were a grim reminder of this joyous day in Washington of the assassination that ended the life of his predecessor, John F. Kennedy.

The oath was administered by Earl Warren, white-haired chief justice of the United States, who wore his black robe.

The Most Rev. Robert E. Lucey, Roman Catholic archbishop of San Antonio, Tex., gave the invocation. He said "the fate of humanity is in our hands," and continued:

"We pray that Almighty God may grant to the leader of our country wisdom and understanding, strength and courage."

Prayers were offered up too by the Rev. George R. Davis of the National City Christian Church, Washington, the denomination to which Johnson belongs. The minister beseeched:

"Help our President, O God, to help us keep remembering that we are one family as a nation, and that we are but one nation in a family of nations..."

Other spiritual leaders offering prayers were Rabbi Hyman Judah Schachtel of Beth Israel Congregation, Houston; and Greek Orthodox Archbishop Iakovos.

Six limousines had brought the presidential party from the White House to the Capitol. In the first were the President, the First Lady and Sen. B. Everett Jordan of North Carolina, chairman of the joint congressional committee on the inauguration.

The inauguration ceremony proper was but the first of three major events. The others:

—The grand parade down Pennsylvania Avenue, the "Thoroughfare of Presidents." By suggestion of Johnson, the parade was stripped of much of the military might displayed in the past — it was intended, instead to stress the nation's peaceful achievements, past, present and to come.

—The ball, spread over a huge armory and four big hotels. The President and the vice president, Hubert H. Humphrey, will look in tonight at all these balls, where some 27,000 dressed-up people will dance, if they have the temerity. The First Lady readied her dress of jonquil, double-woven satin, Mrs. Humphrey hers of shimmering lavender.

Security forces were bent on doing all possible to protect the President. Though the exuberant Johnson would much rather ride unguarded and free to mingle, the word was that he had agreed to go in the re-armored presidential limousine, equipped now with a bubbletop of 1½-inch glass.

Augmented details of riflemen took up stations on the rooftops; every manhole was scrutinized.

But 1,200 troops forming the honor guard along the line of march left their rifles in barracks. Officials were said to feel that this would be too many weapons for complete control — that somebody masquerading as a soldier might slip into the ranks. Even Indians in the parade were requested to remove arrowheads from their arrows.

Last night was a breathless round of parties, concert-going and late-night dancing. Spotted in the swirling crowds were Democrats who helped Johnson to glory, Medal of Freedom winners, Medal of Honor winners, artists, renowned musicians and just plain citizens.

A number of Republican leaders got in on the festivities, too. A big reception for governors included such men as Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, George Romney of Michigan.

They were here to show that an inauguration is no mere partisan event — it's symbolic of a nation drawing together.

Small Radio Stolen

Francis L. Warfield of 100 Hawthorne Avenue, San Anselmo, told San Rafael police someone had stolen a $30 transistor radio from the glove compartment of his Renault sedan, parked at 619 Francisco Boulevard from 9:30 a.m. to noon yesterday. A vent window had been left unlocked, he said.

President All Smiles Leading Own Parade

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, a man who likes crowds, happily led his inaugural parade today through cheering throngs lining the way to the White House.

From the Capitol, where he had taken the oath to serve for four more years, and down the broad reaches of Pennsylvania Avenue, the President rode with a Texas-size smile.

By past standards, it was a rather small parade but it was spectacular as always, alive with stirring music and bright with pretty girls on elaborate floats.

It was late getting started, as always. The procession began moving at 2 p.m., 30 minutes behind schedule.

The marchers and those who watched had a better-than-average break in the weather. It was cold, but not freezing, and the sun was bright. Melting snow and icicles on government buildings did drip on some spectators.

Nearly 15,000 were in the line of march. There were 31 floats to carry the girls and advertise the states, and there were 54 bands making music.

Salesman Arrests Shoplift Suspect

A 38-year-old Kentfield man was booked by San Rafael police on a charge he stole a $61 faucet from L. C. Smith Building Supplies Inc., 124 Belvedere Street, at 12:45 p.m. yesterday.

Police said Alan David Kurtz of 105 Upland Road was booked on a citizen's arrest by store salesman Michael Edward Ryan.

Ryan told officers Kurtz entered the store, looked around, then carried the faucet to his car.

Here Is Look At New Commissioners

Marin's three new county planning commissioners and one new member of the county parks and recreation commission represent a broad spectrum of activities and interests.

One of the planning commissioners, Mrs. Margaret Azevedo of 1875 Centro West, Tiburon, has been a member of the commission before, from 1956 to 1959. She resigned to take a trip to Europe.

Mrs. Azevedo was appointed in 1963 to the San Francisco Bay Area Transportation Study Committee. She served as vice president of the Congress of Bay Area Citizens Organizations in 1963.

She is a member of the Marin Conservation League and the Audubon Society. She is also a member of the Marin Committee on Fair Play in Housing and a former member of the Democratic County Central Committee.

Her husband, Dr. Alfred J. Azevedo is principal of Marina Adult School in San Francisco and a former Tiburon Fire District commissioner. They have two children.

She replaces George Scott.

Harry Heifetz of San Rafael, who replaces Edward K. Wachsman on the planning commission, has been a real estate developer in Marin County for 21 years.

His most recent civic interest has been the county's Citizens Advisory Council for the Elderly, of which he was chairman until a week ago. He will continue as a member of the committee.

Heifetz served as mayor of Fairfax about 15 years ago and was a member of that city's planning commission and city council.

Heifetz said yesterday that he stopped going to planning commission meetings several years ago "because they became so irritating to me. I found the average planning commission was hostile to the general public.

Heifetz said a planning commission should be on the same side as the petitioners before it. "Both have the same object," he said, "which is orderly development of the community."

The third new planning commissioner, Hugh Dougherty of Stinson Beach, is president of the Stinson Beach Progressive Club.

Dougherty has frequently appeared before the county planning commission on behalf of Stinson Beach residents. He has served as a director of the Stinson Beach Public Utility District.

Dougherty lives on Avenida de los Baulinas in Stinson Beach. He is a sales engineer for the electrical marketing division of Exide Co., selling large industrial batteries.

The new parks and recreation commission member, Lothar Salin of San Rafael, just completed a term as president of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum. He is owner and manager of Salin Printing in San Rafael.

Salin is vice president for organization of Toastmasters International and has spoken to audiences all over the United States. He is a director of the Festival Theater of Marin.

Salin was one of the founders of the Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation.

He is a member of the Marin County Historical Society, a former board member of the Marin Democratic Assembly, a past president of the San Rafael Optimist Club, former secretary of the Marin Conservation League and former vice chairman of the San Rafael Committee for School Finance and Education.

He has run unsuccessfully for seats on the San Rafael City Council and the San Rafael Board of Education.

Salin studied classics and history at the University of Basel in Switzerland. He was born in Heidelberg, Germany.

Boy Scout President Is Installed

Marin Council of Boy Scouts last night installed Roy M. Michael of San Rafael as president and awarded Silver Beavers to Fred R. Dickson of San Rafael and John R. Barnard of Mill Valley.

The Silver Beaver awards, for outstanding service to scouting, were presented on behalf of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America.

Dickson, former warden of San Quentin Prison, has been active in scouting for many years. Barnard, an employee of California Packing Corp. in San Francisco, is scoutmaster of Troop 34 of Mill Valley.

The national award of merit for life saving was presented to Eagle Scout Jay Egger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay E. Egger of Greenbrae. It was given for saving the life of Mitchell Aunger, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Aunger of 100 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, when he nearly drowned last June.

Michael, who succeeds Thomas J. Barfield of Bolinas as council president, heads Royce Finance Corp. in San Rafael.

Installed with him were Dr. G. William Magladry, William P. Murray Jr. and Herbert K. Walton Jr. of San Rafael as vice presidents William P. Murray Sr. of San Rafael as treasurer; Elmer S. Palmquist of San Anselmo as assistant treasurer, and Russell Dwyer of Ross as council commissioner.

Installed as new members of the board were Jesse E. Berry of Marin City, Ray Muir of Novato, and Gordon H. Doheman, Clayton K. Rice and Bruce B. Bales of San Rafael.

One-Act Plays Set At Tam High School

A series of one-act plays will be given at Tamalpais High School Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m., players being students of beginning drama classes.

"Fumed Oak," a comedy by Noel Coward, "The Women Folks," by John Kirkpatrick, "Fog," an American melodrama and "The Boor," by Chekov will be presented Friday. Saturday's program will include "The Marriage Proposal" by Chekov, "So Wonderful in White," "Sunday Costs Five Pesos" and "Teapot on the Rocks."

Although the number of highway accidents in California is increasing, National Automobile Club points out that the percentage of accidents per car population is declining.

Fairfax Trustees Rent Portable Classrooms, Debate Air Cooling

Fairfax School District trustees last night accepted a low bid of $19,170 by Modulux Corp. of Newark, Alameda County, for lease of four relocatable classrooms for 18 months.

Other bidders were Speed Space of Santa Rosa, Vinnell Steel Co. of Oakland and Mobile Rents of Oakland.

Trustees learned that Modulux could further reduce the cost of portable classrooms by reducing grading requirements for one of them and leaving out air conditioning. They asked Supt. Homer Sisk to discuss the grading requirements with district architect Eugene Crawford, but decided to take a closer look at the air conditioning question.

Lowering the grading would reduce the lease price to $17,226. Leaving out the air conditioning also would reduce it to $15,786.

Two classrooms are to be located at Deer Park School, where the company suggested lowering the grading by a foot at one side. The other two will be at Manor School.

The board appointed the architectural firm of Crawford and Banning for the district's new seventh and eighth grade school, proposed at a site west of Oak Manor Drive and north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Ray Barnes of 107 Spruce Road was named to the board to fill the vacancy left by resignation of trustee Robert Lauppe. Barnes is a member of the board's architectural advisory committee and was also a member of its site selection committee.

Bruce MacDonald, principal of Deer Park School, was named principal of the summer school session, to be held June 23 to July 23.

The Fairfax School District Board also:

1. Passed a resolution calling for the April 20 election of two new trustees to the board. The terms of Laurence Hermann and George Stone end June 30.

2. Heard from Superintendent Sisk that projected enrollment in the district next year is 1,065 pupils, compared to the present enrollment of 1,017.

3. Approved hiring of Mrs. Joanne Brady to teach fifth grade at Manor School, replacing Marian Nees, who resigned.

Class Elections Set At Terra Linda High

Class elections at Terra Linda High School will be held Feb. 3, according to Jerry Bellamy, chairman of the student election committee.

Speeches by candidates for senior class offices will be held next Monday at noon. Sophomore candidates will give their speeches in the school gymnasium the same day. Speeches by junior class candidates are scheduled Tuesday in the gym.

Much Of Marin Gets More Rain

An easy rain continued in much of Marin today, bringing from .05 to .14 of an inch to various areas during the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m.

San Rafael got .06 of an inch from noon yesterday to the same time today.

Heaviest rainfall was in Sausalito, which reported .14. Other readings gave Belvedere .07, Novato and Mill Valley .05, and Chevy Chase in Larkspur .1.

Larkspur Trustee Seeks Re-election

John R. Cunningham of 30 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, an incumbent, filed a declaration with the county schools office yesterday to seek re-election to the Larkspur School District board April 20.

Cunningham was the second member of the board to file. John W. Boyd of 102 Acacia Avenue, Larkspur, filed last week.

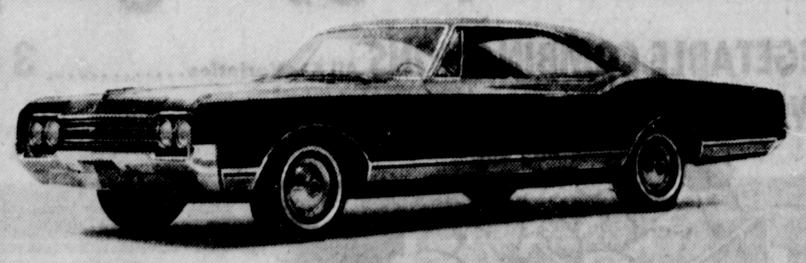
Sure.
You might find another car as new as the Delta 88.



But not this year.

This is Oldsmobile's Delta 88. It's unique. Unique because it's new. New clear through.

Styling is new. So new, not a line nor a highlight was borrowed from last year.

Power plant is new. Super Rocket V-8 is the biggest in Olds history: 425-cubic-inches big, up to 370-horses strong.

Transmission is new, too. Turbo Hydra-Matic, available on any Delta 88, provides up to 40% more torque from a standing start, superlative performance at all speeds.

New styling. New engine. New transmission. This year, only Delta 88 lets you have all three, all new. Other cars have a lot of catching up to do

SAUSALITO GETS GIFT OF $1,400

Councilman Chapin Balks At Offer, Saying It Comes From 'Slums' Owner

One Sausalito City Council member wanted to look a $1,400 gift in the mouth last night, but a majority of her fellow councilmen wouldn't look with her.

The gift was a bond and interest worth $1,400 offered by A. A. Tiscornia, who Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin described as a millionaire lawyer and real estate owner and "an extreme individualist."

Tiscornia owns some idle property in Marinship and the Federal Ornamental Iron and Bronze Co. of Sausalito, but Mrs. Chapin was concerned with "unimproved slums" he owns in San Francisco.

"He has refused to improve his property and has had many hassles with the board of health," she said.

"I don't think we can be bought for $1,400," said Councilman Earl F. Dunphy.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk said he was "faintly disturbed" at the idea that a property owner "who has done us no harm" should have a gift rejected, especially since the council accepted a gift of $1,200 from Tiscornia in 1963. There were no strings attached to the offer, the mayor said.

Mrs. Chapin felt the city might be "embarrassed" if it accepted the money. Councilman Melvin S. Wax went along with her.

But Dunphy, the mayor and Councilman Alexander R. Imlay cast the deciding votes.

HAFB Bids Called

The Hamilton Air Force Base procurement office today called for bids to furnish commissary merchandising equipment, repair a disposal and salvage shed and supply telephone equipment components.

Bay Water Used To Quench Sofa

Bay water was used to douse a fire today in a Sausalitan's sofa.

Walter McIntire of 545 Bridgeway told police he found the sofa in flames about 5 a.m. He said he threw it over his apartment balcony, dragged it across the street and heaved it into the bay.

Firemen, called by police Patrolman Ben Barrett at 5:25 a.m., found the sofa on the rocks near the sea wall, partly submerged but with the top out of water and smoldering.

McIntire told Barrett he did not know how the fire started.

Courses Offered To Adults

Many new courses will be offered during the spring semester in the adult education program at Novato High School, according to Robert McKeay, head of adult education for Novato Unified School District.

The high school will offer 24 adult classes. Also, College of Marin is offering 10 classes at Novato High School.

New courses available when enrollment starts on Feb. 1 include: Electronics, junior and senior high school mathematics for parents, aerospace geography, anthropology, home decorative arts, real estate for the layman, drama in the round, rapid reading, income tax preparation, community chorus, and driver education.

An eight-week course in water safety for adults will be offered after the Easter holiday on April 19.

Most of the courses offered at the fall semester will be continued in the spring semester.

TODAY:

5:25 a.m., Sausalito—Fire in couch of unknown ownership on seawall in 500 block of Bridgeway; cause unknown.

C. F. Schwerin Resigns Redevelopment Post

Marin County supervisors yesterday accepted the resignation of C. F. Schwerin of San Anselmo from the Marin County Redevelopment Agency Commission, a post he has held for 22 years.

Schwerin, 73, said his resignation was not connected with resignations requested by supervisors from other commissions. He said he felt it was time a younger man took on the job.

Supervisors then appointed Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. of Belvedere, former mayor of Sausalito, to complete Schwerin's term for three years. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen nominated Erlich.

The board reappointed Alton Lerch of Novato to the Marin County Housing Authority on recommendation of Supervisor William A. Gnoss. Lerch's current term ends Jan. 26.

Lerch also serves on the redevelopment agency commission, on which his term ends April 17.

The board continued until Tuesday discussion on a letter from the Marin Council for Civic Affairs suggesting an "infusion of new blood" on the redevelopment agency commission by making changes as vacancies occur.

On Aug. 15, 1964, was the 150th birthday of Joshua C. Stoddard, who invented the steam calliope.

Two Tam High Girls To 'Exchange Parents'

Two Tamalpais High School students, Rebecca Oakes and Judy Goodman, will "exchange parents" with a Colombian student for six months starting next semester.

The two girls, both of Mill Valley, will stay in Bogota with Dr. and Mrs. Guaqueto. The Guaquetos' daughter will live with Mr. and Mrs. Abe Goodman, parents of Miss Goodman.

Club Dropped As Lagunitas School Site

The proposal to build a grammar school in the center of Woodacre was dropped last night by the Lagunitas School District board, bringing to a close a running debate that has continued almost a year.

In past votes on the issue, the board had split 2-2 with Board President Leslie S. Stone abstaining and Trustees Glen W. Twitchell and William G. McBride voting against the site.

Last night, Stone said he, too, would oppose the site if it came to a vote again. Although no vote was taken last night, trustees agreed they will consider other sites on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and rule out the Woodacre location.

The proposed site would have taken some of the property of the Woodacre Improvement Club. The club opposed the move and Monday night members of the San Geronimo Valley Assn. voted to oppose it.

Site discussion came up last night when the board agreed to call a $200,000 bond election and a $300,000 state loan election on April 20, the same day as the election of trustees. The money will be used for the "acquisition of sites and construction of facilities, Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said.

The terms of Trustees John Keilty, John Nielsen and Twitchell will expire. All indicated after last night's meeting that they probably would not seek re-election, McCunniff said.

There was a closed session at the close of the meeting last night to discuss complaints "from the public on one or two teachers," McCunniff said. No action followed the closed session, he said.

Next board meeting will be at 8 p.m. Feb. 2 at the school.

Tamalpais High School's ski club will make a weekend trip to Sugar Bowl Jan. 29, traveling by bus.

Alto Firemen Back City Plan

Alto Volunteer Firemen Inc. today pledged financial support and "complete cooperation" to the Alto incorporation committee.

Volunteer Harry Cordall, spokesman, said the volunteers have voted to help out financially and donations are being accepted for the committee at the Alto firehouse on Shell Road. There are 25 members in the organization.

"We must still get behind the incorporation committee and do our utmost to bring this incorporation to a vote of the people. This is our last chance," said Cordall.

PARACHUTE FIND PROBED

Air Force experts at Tinker Air Force Base, Okla., today are studying all four engines of KC-135 jet tanker plane which crashed into homes at Wichita, Kans., Saturday, killing 29 persons. Portions of parachute and its nylon cords were found wrapped around this engine, but Air Force officials think it may have happened after the crash.

Nature Group Offers $2,000 To Tidelands

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday accepted an offer of $2,000 from the National Audubon Society for purchase of tidelands off Straw-Point, but it may not be able to cash the check.

The $2,000 was contributed on condition that the 11.1 acres to be purchased by the county, Tiburon and the Strawberry Recreation district be made part of the adjacent wildlife sanctuary.

Chairman Peter H. Behr said all three governmental agencies would have to agree to the condition before the contribution could be accepted.

The board authorized Recreation Director Kelvin J. Nelson to apply for a federal open space grant toward purchase of the tidelots in the Salt Works Canal area.

They agreed to discuss purchase of Rat Island, near China Camp, from the federal government at a workshop session with the parks and recreation commission on the county's master parks plan Feb. 1 at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center. The commission recommended the purchase.

A recommendation by the commission that the county transfer a seven-acre tidelot area at Harbor Point to the Strawberry Recreation District was referred to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney for legal study.

Christian Unity Octave Continues With Worship

San Rafael's Christian Unity Octave continues tonight as Protestants and Catholics worship together at the First Methodist Church of San Rafael.

The service starts at 8 p.m.

Last night, 320 persons heard Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco gave the featured speech at the annual dinner of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of San Rafael at Dominic's Restaurant.

Archbishop McGucken spoke for 50 minutes on his observations at the recent Vatican Council in Rome. His unprecedented appearance was before an audience of clergy and lay members of St. Raphael's Parish, plus members of four Protestant churches taking part in the week-long program.

Tonight's service will feature the sermon, "I Believe in the Foregiveness of Sins," by Rev. Donald H. Baldwin. The sermon continues the Octave's theme of discussing the Apostle's Creed, one passage at a time.

Tomorrow night, the services will move to St. Paul's Episcopal Church, where Rev. John D. Riley will give a sermon entitled, "I Believe in the Resurrection of the Body."

Tam Calendar Gets Approval

The school calendar for the 1965-66 school year for Tamalpais High School District was approved Monday night by district trustees. It calls for 176 school days.

The fall semester will start Sept. 14, after a week of preschool meetings and a new student orientation day on Monday, Sept. 13. The Fridays after Nov. 11, Veterans Day, and Nov. 25, Thanksgiving, will be holidays.

The fall semester will end Jan. 27, 1966, and the spring semester will begin Jan. 31. Monday, Feb. 21, the day before Washington's Birthday, will be a holiday, giving still another four-day weekend. The spring semester ends June 17, 1966.

Three Injured As Brakes Fail

Three persons were injured in a two-car crash at 2:50 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 at the Grant Avenue intersection in Novato which was blamed to brake failure.

Treated at Novato Hospital for a scalp cut and ear and glass injuries of her eye and arm was Lenna Matz, 47, of 2181 Center Road, Novato, a passenger in a car driven by Edwin A. Rose, 55, of 1140 Mirabella Avenue, Novato.

Rose and his wife, Dorris, 55, were both examined but not treated. Driver of the other car, Michael J. Burns, 18, of 171 Rollingwood Drive, San Rafael, told the California Highway Patrol he stepped on the brake as he approached the intersection, headed south. One wheel locked and the car skidded into the intersection.

Formation Unit Is Panel Topic

Workings of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Agency will be explored on the radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" program from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Speakers will be County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, chairman of the local agency commission; Hugh Marchant, commission member; County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, and Jerome B. Gilbert, manager of the North Marin Water District. Kitty Oppenheimer will moderate the discussion.

Questions from the public will be answered during the broadcast. A tape recording of the session will be repeated on KTIM at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Storer Moved For Salin Post

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer made the motion yesterday that Lothar Salin of San Rafael be appointed to the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission replacing James M. Fletcher of San Rafael.

The Independent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday that the motion was by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

NOVATO GRANTS PAY INCREASES

Only Half Of Employees Get Hikes; Measure To Cost City $7,400 A Year

By THERON A. NEWELL

After wandering around in the woods of ranges, steps, and job classifications for more than two hours last night, the Novato City Council gave pay raises to half of the city employees.

The raises will cost the city approximately $7,400 per year, said City Administrator J. Julien Baget. They affect 37 of the city's 62 employees and are retroactive to Jan. 1.

On recommendation of Baget, all clerks and stenographer salaries were left at their former pay.

At request of the Novato Employees Assn., the council adopted a 70-range, five-step pay schedule recommended by the state personnel board. This is graduated at two and a half per cent increase in steps compared to five per cent increase in the 38-range scale which has been in use.

The council asked for study on a group life insurance plan for employees joining the state retirement plan, and furnishing police officers a continuing uniform allowance. The city has been paying new officers $120 for uniforms for their first year only. This was increased last night to $150.

The salary increases ranged from $25 per month for the lead man of the street crew to $50 for Director of Public Works Lawrence Coleman.

All department heads, except Police Chief Robert Di Grazia, received pay increases. Planning Director Robert Lagle received a $45 per month increase. Director of Finance Charles Foster, who was hired at $820 three months ago, was given a $41 increase. This makes his salary the same as that of the chief of police. Baget did not recommend an increase for the police chief.

In the public works department, the six maintenance men received a $47 per month average increase, as did the sweeper operator. The foreman received a $30 increase; assistant civil engineer, $35; junior civil engineer, $31; chief building inspector, $34, and two inspectors, $30. The assistant planner received $32 and the planning technician, $31 increase.

In the police department, the five sergeants were given $31 per month increase and the 13 officers, $26.

Baget told the council he is "satisfied with the salaries we are now paying our stenographers and clerks."

Mayor Robert D. Carrow agreed, saying, "We can replace any of them for the salaries we are now paying."

Baget recommended a one-range increase for maintenance men, but Mayor Carrow urged a two-range raise, which was granted, saying, "I don't see how these men can support a family on that wage scale." The new starting pay is $457 per month.

On the other hand, Carrow opposed the three-range hike granted the finance director on Baget's recommendation.

"Let's at least wait to see how he prepares his first budget," urbged the mayor. "He has not even gone past the probationary period yet." But Carrow found himself outvoted 3 to 1. Councilman Lucile Cannon was absent.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Set for 8 p.m., Feb. 23, a public hearing on annexation of 20 acres of commercial property on Ignacio Boulevard as requested by Walter Kieckhefer and approved by the Local Agency Formation Commission.

2. Asked for a staff report on the effect of angle parking on Grant Avenue.

3. Adjourned to a 45-minute closed session to "discuss personnel appointments and dismissals," but did not take any action afterwards.

Marincello Gets Sewage Offer

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors last night agreed to inform the county planning commission that district facilities will be available to the proposed City of Marincello, contingent upon acceptance by the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District.

Tamalpais has a contract with the Sausalito-Marin City District to process Tamalpais effluence. There are 220 acres of Marincello in the Tamalpais district's watershed.

Director Gale E. Bishel said the board is seeking applicants to fill the position left by resignation of director Robert D. Smith, who moved to Southern California. Applications may be sent to the Tamalpais Fire Station.

Union Files For Fairchild Election

The International Assn. of Machinists has filed petitions with the National Labor Relations Board to hold representation elections at Fairchild Semiconductor and Victrylite Candle Co. of San Rafael.

The electronics plant employs about 500 persons and the candle works 25 to 125 seasonally, according to John Sweeney, special representative for the union's international headquarters. Date of the elections has not been set.

Conservation Council Meeting Cancelled

Meeting of the Marin Conservation Council, listed for tonight in today's Marin Calendar, has been cancelled because of conflict with another meeting.

The council will meet next month on its regular day, Feb. 17.

U.C. Medical Center Head Under Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The University of California administration, already beset by troubles on its Berkeley campus, faced another revolt today—this time at its San Francisco Medical Center.

Eight department chairman of the center have called for the removal of Dr. John deC. M. Saunders as chancellor. He has been head of the school since 1960.

Meanwhile, members of the San Francisco Medical Society disclosed yesterday that they are circulating an unofficial petition defending Saunders against the criticism.

The faculty members charged that Saunders has failed to show strong leadership in administering the school and that he has displayed "paralysis" when faced with making a decision. They contended that research at the medical center has suffered as a result, and that many of the fulltime researchers and teachers have lost confidence in Saunders.

But some leaders of the medical society praised him highly. Dr. John Schaupp, past president of the society, described Saunders as "the perfect bridge between the common doctor and academic research."

Hub Parents Ask Portable Rooms, No Double Sessions

Nearly 100 citizens of San Anselmo indicated last night they favor the use of portable classrooms over double school sessions by a 2 to 1 vote.

The vote, by show of hands, came at the end of an hour and one-half of discussion on the merits of double sessions at Isabel Cook and Brookside Schools or renting four portable classrooms at about $12,000 for one year.

A rough count of the show of hands indicated about 25 in favor of double sessions, and about 55 in favor of portable classrooms.

Trustees of San Anselmo School District, however, said they are reluctant to take the $12,000 from school operating funds to rent the portable buildings.

"I cannot support a plan which would rob us of our operating fund to put up a building," said Mrs. Doris Harnsberger, chairman of the board. "Teachers are more important than buildings."

But several members of the audience came out strongly for portable classrooms.

"Going double session would be a retreat," declared Benjamin A. Reist of 107 Suffield Avenue, a professor at the San Francisco Theological Seminary. He urged use of temporary facilities such as portable classrooms.

So did Edward J. Neumeier of 63 Rutherford Avenue and Ronald R. Hill of 91 Jordan Avenue.

Hill, a former planning commissioner, suggested use of portable "shacks" might serve as a graphic reminder that more classrooms are needed and help passage of the next bond issue in April.

Neumeier, an administrative assistant in Tamalpais High School District, said portable classrooms are quality structures and certainly not "shacks." He would prefer portabel classrooms to the disruption caused by double sessions.

Several other parents and teachers got up to defend double sessions as a satisfactory interim solution.

Leon Ginsberg of Redwood Avenue called for a decision based on what is educationally best for the children. He charged the children were being made a "political football."

Supt. Stephen L. Parodi explained the school district will be short about four classrooms for the coming school year, two each at Cook and Brookside schools.

The shortage could be met by having eight double sessions or four portable classrooms.

Parodi presented seven different plans, shuffling classes around to make room for the growing enrollment. But each plan results in the need for either double sessions or extra classrooms.

Mrs. Harnsberger announced the question of double sessions vs. portable classrooms will be placed on the agenda of future meetings until the matter is resolved. Next meeting is 8 p.m. Feb. 2 in the faculty room of Isabel Cook School.

The trustees last night also:

1. Approved a resolution, combining the school trustee election with a $700,000 bond election on April 20. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

2. Voted to send a letter to the County Committee on School District Organization urging that unification of the entire Tamalpais High School District be again put to a public vote.

Slip Of Foot Blamed For Kentfield Crash

A San Anselmo driver's foot slipped from brake to accelerator as he glanced away from the road at 3:20 p.m. yesterday on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

That, John P. O'Looney, 18, of 54 Park Drive told the California Highway Patrol, was why his car hit the rear of one driven by Sandra J. Schultze, 18, of 312 Corrillo Drive, San Rafael, as both were eastbound. O'Looney was treated at Marin General Hospital for a forehead cut.

Sausalito Facade Labeled 'Awful'

A new building facade in the 600 block of Bridgeway in Sausalito "looks awful," said Neal Davis, proprietor of the Audience, at last night's Sausalito City Council meeting.

"Someone slipped up here" in not bringing the project before the Community Appearances Advisory Board, said Councilman Melvin S. Wax, who agreed the green and lavender building front looked out of place in Sausalito.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said no one had slipped up, the job started as a repair job on dry rot and the dry rot proved very extensive. The new facade includes the Shoe Shoppe, the Seven Seas and the Sweet Shoppe.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk asked Brown if all building permits could be reviewed by the appearance board to avoid such things happening in future. Brown said reviewing all permits would take too long, but the board and he were studying what could be done to improve the controls.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Heard a report from Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin that Barney West promised to keep his chain saw quiet on evenings and weekends. Leland H. Jordan, city attorney, reported West has promised to bring a shack he has up to building code requirements. Joseph Belehrod of 134 Filbert Street said the noise from West's saw is as bad as ever in his neighborhood.

2. Set for Feb. 16 hearing on an ordinance amendment which would require use permits where dwellings or hotel rooms are constructed on the ground floor of buildings in the business district.

3. Passed a resolution confirming the council's Jan. 5 denial of a variance requested by United Sand and Gravel Co. to allow it to continue operating its sand dump near Mono Street. The company intends to seek an ordinance change allowing a "conditional" use.

4. Approved Mayor Dyk's appointment of H. M. Coverly of 57 Prospect Avenue to the Marin Mosquito Abatement District board, filling a vacancy left by the death of Frank Williams.

5. Approved appointment by Dyk of Theo Boutmy, a Sausalito architect, to the new seat on the Community Appearances Advisory Board.

6. Passed on to City Attorney Jordan a dance ordinance requiring permits for public dances and giving the police chief power to investigate the supervision and location of the dance. Councilman Wax wondered whether the ordinance should try to define what is "lurid", "indecent" or "obscene," words used to describe conduct prohibited.

7. Set for Feb. 16 hearing on a conditional use permit requested by Albert Engle for existing use of a city right of way at 588 Bridgeway. The planning commission questioned whether the use permit would increase the value of the property when the city eventually buys it from Engle for widening of Bridgeway.

8. Granted a permit for a storage room and garage, owned by Hal and Margaret Roth at 501 Bonita Street, to continue encroaching on Filbert Street right of way.

9. Heard City Manager Brown's report on the city's financial condition at the halfway point of the fiscal year. Brown reported the city has spent 45 per cent of its budget, a total of $302,000. Revenues for the six months were up $55,000 over 1963, at $335,000.

9. Ordered Brown to investigate the 1964 uniform electrical, plumbing, gas and building codes and to hold hearings if necessary to determine any necessary amendments before they are adopted by Sausalito.

10. Held up decision on whether to purchase 18,000 square feet of Sausalito Distillery Co. property at Nevada and Tomales streets for a corporation yard. The Sausalito School District will be formally notified of the council's intention to buy the land, since the property is near Bayside School. The city manager recommended $22,500 be offered for the land.

11. Passed a resolution allowing the city to accept $2,000 in state gasoline tax funds for engineering and administrative costs.

12. Formally adopted its resolution on new personnel rules agreed on at a Nov. 10 meeting.

13. Authorized Brown to attend a meeting of the managers division of the League of California Cities in Sacramento Feb. 17-19.

Sonic Booms May Be Heard

Sonic booms may jolt Marin County tomorrow night or Friday, as jet interceptors from Hamilton Air Force Base take part in wide-ranging exercises to be called "Hopi Chief I."

Base officials said their F-101 Voodoos will scramble to intercept supersonic B-58 "Hustler" bombers and subsonic B-47 and B-52 bombers over Northern California in the joint exercise of Strategic Air Command and 28th Region North American Air Defense Command, including Air Force, Army and Navy units.

"Hopi Chief I" is not expected to last more than an hour in any one area, and civilian air traffic will not be disrupted, Hamilton officials said.

Folk Singers Set Special Concert

The Coachmen, who have recently recorded two folksong albums, will appear in a special concert at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Sound Studio in the Paradise Shopping Center on Paradise Drive, Corte Madera.

The Coachmen first appeared in 1959 at the Purple Onion in San Francisco and since have given concerts across the country. Robb Brown plays guitar, Don Koss handles comedy numbers, and Doug Tanner leads ballads.

TIMES CHANGE AND BADMEN ARE LESS BAD

The shadows of long-ago badmen flickered briefly over Marin Municipal Court yesterday — Sam Bass and Jesse James.

But Samuel Walter Bass was only 18, and he was before the court only for expungement of the record on his conviction last Feb. 25 of having an intoxicating beverage in his car and driving with a revoked license.

Bass, of 1809 Mar West, Tiburon, was granted the expungement.

His compadre in badman name-lore, Jesse James, was before the court for an equally mild purpose. Jesse James Lyons, 30, San Francisco, was sentenced to the one day already served in Marin County Jail for driving without a driver's license.

Work Crews Moving Onto Angel Island

Work crews are moving onto Angel Island State Park to begin brush clearing and demolition of buildings which eventually will result in allowing public use of the entire island.

In the next few weeks the dozen workers will begin clearing the thick, fire-hazard brush which covers much of the island. They will tear down and burn some of the rows of rotting wooden barracks. Other buildings are to be preserved.

Safety Chiefs Nearly Agree On Bridgeway

Sausalito's fire and police chiefs came within two feet of each other last night in their recommendations on how wide Bridgeway should be from Princess to Richardson streets.

Both Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck and Fire Chief Matthew J. Perry felt an extra lane for emergency vehicles should be included in the section to be rebuilt along the seawall.

Huck said the seawall section is heavily jammed with cars during the tourist season, making it hazardous for emergency vehicles because there is nowhere for other vehicles to go to get out of the way. Huck said 42 feet from curb to curb with two travel lanes and two parking lanes, one of which could be kept open during peak periods.

Chief Perry said 40 feet would be sufficient to allow two travel lanes, a parking lane and one 10-foot emergency lane in the center, to be kept open at all times.

The council has ordered City Engineer Beverly J. Whitlow to proceed with plans for a 40-foot-wide thoroughfare, but there has been disagreement on whether it should include an emergency lane.

The Gila Monster looks like a fat lizard. His glands produce large quantities of poison.

Specifications Outlined For Sausalito Library

Sausalito's new library should have room for at least 40,000 volumes, the Sausalito Library Board recommended to the city council last night.

The recommendation was one of a series of minimum requirements suggested by the board in a letter urging early action on the library. The council passed the letter on to the planning commission, which is investigating possible sites for the building

The library is being held up because the council wants to integrate it into the downtown waterfront master plan, which, it is hoped, will be drawn up using money from the federal government.

A hearing on the application for federal money will be held Jan. 29 in Sacramento by the state planning advisory committee, the council was told by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown.

Other requirements suggested by the library board included:

1. Central downtown location at street level.

2. Seatingfor 80 in the general reading room, 30 in the childrens' room and 15 in the reference room.

3. A combination meeting room, art gallery and film room with sound-proofing for playing records and tapes.

4. Adequate office space for the librarian and work room and storage facilities.

5. Three lavatories

Officers Elected By Kennel Club

O. L. Jack Green of 374 Edgewood Avenue, Mill Valley, was re-elected president of the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club last night in San Rafael.

Greene is owner of the Tamalpais Pet Shop in Mill Valley.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Isabella Cheda, San Rafael, first vice president; John Hampton, Mill Valley, second vice president; Arthur Foff, Mill Valley, treasurer; Mrs. Frances Putnam, Novato, recording secretary; Mrs. Helyne Michael, Tiburon, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Jan Hampton of Mill Valley, Rowland Darnell of Novato, Mrs. Frances Vander of San Rafael, and Marion Hubbard of Ross, directors.

Two Named Men Of Year By Chamber

George A. Lawrence, manager of Lachman Brothers in San Rafael, and Harold S. Elbing, president of the San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan Assn., were named "Men of the Year" at last night's annual dinner at the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Elberg was cited for his work as head of the chamber's finances during the past year and for putting the chamber on a sound financial foundation.

Lawrence was cited for his readiness to help in chamber activities and particularly for his work with the merchants committee.

Plaques were presented to the two men by Robert W. F. Severin, outgoing president of the chamber. The selections were made by the board of directors.

The dinner and dance, held at Peacock Gap Country Club was attended by 185. Robert Ritter was installed as president; Leroy Rudolph as first vice president; S. K. Herzog Jr., second vice president, and Theodore A. Martin, treasurer.

INCOME TAX FACTS

If Your Earnings Climbed, You Might Try Averaging

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

If you have a much larger income in 1964 than in prior years, income averaging may be a big tax saver for you.

Wikel

You must be a citizen or resident of the United States.

Your income must have been subject to United States tax during 1960, 1961, 1962, and 1963 as well as 1964.

You must have provided over 50 per cent of your own support for 1964, but this is not necessary if you are 25 years old or over during 1964 and have not been a fulltime student for at least four years since you were 21 years old, or if over 50 per cent of your taxable income for 1964 is the result of work performed in two or more of the years 1960, 1961, 1962 and 1963.

If you were married in 1964 to someone who was the dependent of another taxpayer and file a joint return, 75 per cent of the income on the joint return must be yours (not your spouse's).

If you were married or divorced, or filed separate returns for 1960, 1961, 1962, or 1963, then there are special rules that apply to you.

If your 1964 income is over $3,000 more than it was for one and one-third times your average for 1960, 1961, 1962 and 1963, this income averaging may be a real tax saver for you.

However, it is a complex computation with many ifs, ands and buts.

If this could apply to you, you should consult your tax advisor early or carefully study the rules before starting on your return.

The United States Treasury publishes a book, well written in understandable language, called "Your Federal Income Tax — 1965 Edition for Individuals, I.R.S. Publication No. 17." This book can be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C., or from the local office of the District Director of Internal Revenue. The price is 50 cents and it is an excellent investment.

Pop-Bottle Milk

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Wisconsin dairymen, hoping to corner a share of the nation's gigantic soft drink market, have formed a company to sell milk in soft drink-type bottles, Texas A&M University reports. The farmers are aiming at vending machine sales, and the first product to be offered by the new company will be chocolate milk.

Financial Corp. Board Re-Elected

Marin County Financial Corp. re-elected its board of seven directors at its 1965 annual meeting of shareholders last night.

Following the shareholders meeting, the directors re-elected all officers.

Jordan L. Martinelli will continue to head the corporation as president, with Fred F. Enemark as executive vice president and manager. Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. will continue as vice president, secretary and assistant manager.

Directors re-elected were John F. Ryan, Dr. Matthew E. Hazeltine, Carlos R. Freitas, Johannes Petersen and Jack Craemer.

Identical officers and directors were re-elected to the corporation's wholly owned subsidiary, Marin County Savings and Loan Assn.

Marin County Financial Corp. reported net earnings after taxes of $1.55 per share for 1964, compared to $1.26 per share in 1963. Stockholders received a 5 per cent stock dividend earlier this month.

Foremost Buys Water Bottler

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Foremost Dairies Corp. has announced it has purchased Alhambra National Water Co., the largest bottled water firm in Northern California.

James C. Murphy, president of Alhambra, will continue as general manager of the new subsidiary.

Alhambra has facilities in San Francisco, Oakland, Santa Rosa, Santa Clara, Salinas, Redwood City and Vallejo.

The acquisition marks the second purchase of a bottled water concern by Foremost. Last March the dairy company acquired Sparkletts Drinking Water Corp., of Los Angeles.

Bumper Crop Of Visitors For California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tourists put more than $250 million into circulation in Northern and Central California in 1964, the San Francisco Convention and Visitor Bureau has reported.

It was a bumper crop of visitors, with spending up 12.5 per cent over 1963.

Albert E. Schiesinger, president of the bureau, said last year's spending by tourists was computed at $283,914,580 compared to $252,275,000 in 1963.

Convention visitors in San Francisco added another $75,955,346 to the regional economy.

Schlesinger figured that San Francisco's share of the total visitor industry income was $150 million.

More than 4 million out-of-state travelers came to Northern and Central California in 1964, against 3.5 million in 1963. The Bay area attracted 3,007,800 of them. Schlesinger said the statistics do not include Southern Californians traveling north.

Here's How New Business Aids Community

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Texas Manufacturers Association says statistics show that when a new industry moves to town and brings 100 workers into the local labor force, the community gains:

—359 more people.

—65 more employed in nonmanufacturing.

—91 new school children.

—$710,000 in personal income yearly.

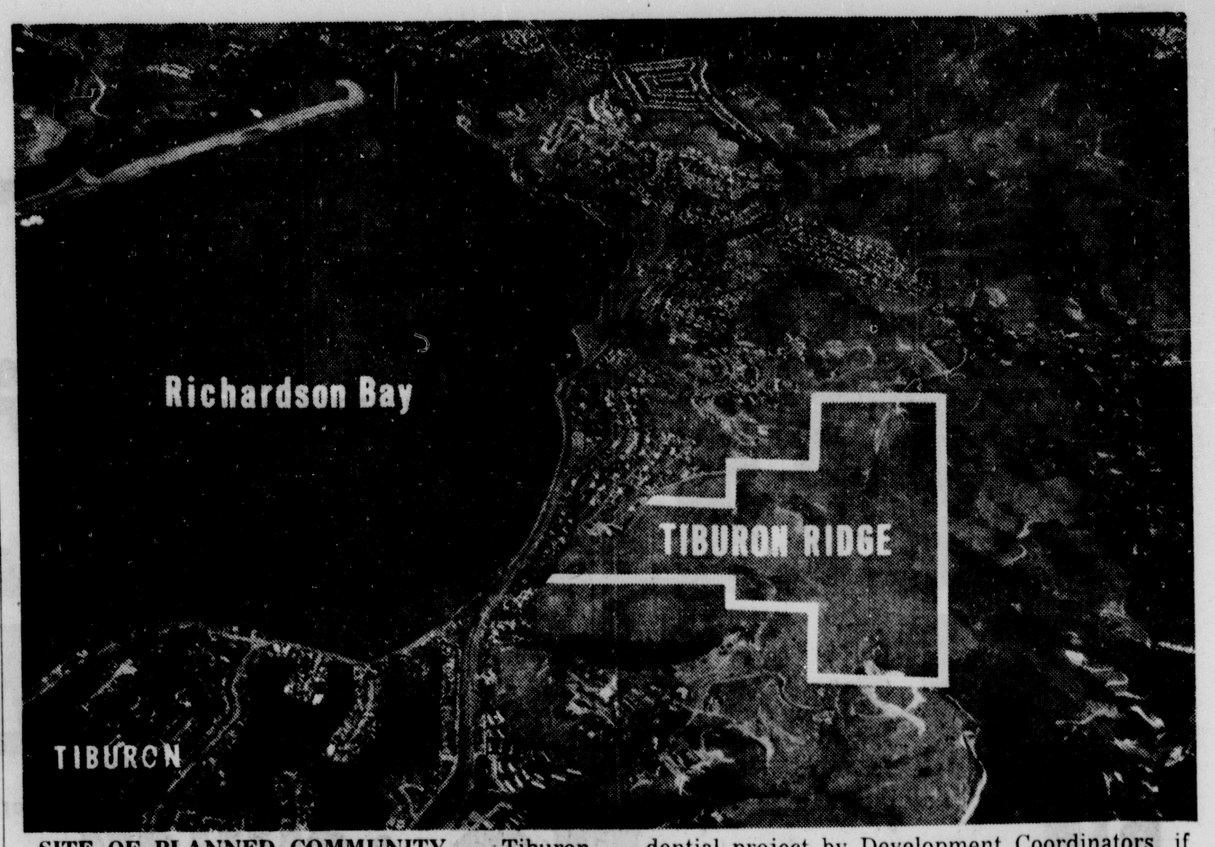
—100 more households.

—$331,000 more retail sales a year.

—97 more passenger cars registered.

—$229,000 more bank deposits.

—Three new retail establishments.



SITE OF PLANNED COMMUNITY — Tiburon Ridge, encompassing 100 acres on the Tiburon Peninsula, will be the location of an extensive residential project by Development Coordinators, if subdivision plans are approved by the City of Tiburon.

Stocks Close High After Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today, around its latest recor dhighs. Trading was active.

Union Carbide expanded its gain to nearly 2 in late dealings but Kennecott was off a point and there were many fractional losers among key stocks.

In early trading the list pushed into new high ground but profit taking nipped gains and the averages backed away from their peaks.

U.S. Smelting spurted about 5 while Control Data sank 2 and Du Pont lost a fraction.

General Motors and U.S. Steel showed fractional gains.

Volume for the day was estimated at about the same as yesterday's 5.57 million shares.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional although Union Carbide and Polaroid added a point each.

Off a point or so were Kennecott and Control Data.

Leading steels remained slightly higher on balance, changes being mostly fractional. Little leadership developed among other groups.

Fractional gains were shown by Eastman Kodak, Montgomery Ward, Zenith and American Tobacco.

Prices were generally higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds continued higher.

New Oil Strike In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Occidental Petroleum Corp. says it has struck oil—near the Los Angeles-Beverly Hills border.

The company has leased 424 acres near Pico boulevard and Beverly Drive, within the Los Angeles limits, and hopes to sign additional contracts in the area.

The firm says a test hole showed 500 feet of oil-saturated sand. Los Angeles Petroleum Administrator Arthur O. Spaulding said it will be at least six months before Occidental can comply with all city regulations and determine the extent of the oil reserves.

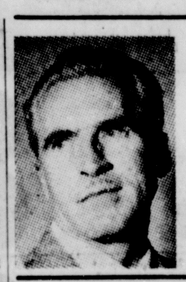
Car Parking Skills

NEW YORK (UPI) — Here's how you can judge how good a car parker you are. A parking attendant in most lots and garages must do the job in a 200-250 square foot space allowance, according to the Kinney Service Corporation, operator of parking lots. In "park it yourself" stations a driver has 350 to 450 feet allowed for parking.



OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Tiburon Ridge Subdivision Awaits Planning Decision

Work is due to commence in April or May on the first 14-acre subdivision of a 100-acre tract known as Tiburon Ridge. Tentative plans are now before the Tiburon Planning Commission with hearing scheduled Friday.

This is another planned community development, with 64 of the 100 acres as the initial project. They face Angel Island, the bay and have an unobstructed view of the San Francisco skyline. Homes will be in the $42,000-$60,000 range.

Undertaking the project is Development Coordinators, headquartered in Fullerton and presently working with Sunset International Corp. and Hobart Consolidated in Novato. The firm's activities run the full range of technical and professional services, including land planning, home design, color coordination, material selection and decoration, bid analysis and sales.

Howard R. Eichen, president, notes that each home will be individual in appearance in floor plan. F. Keith Lyon will be on-the-job coordinator.

A NEW SIKORSKY twin-turbine 26-passenger helicopter is being delivered to SFO Helicopter Airlines this month and will go into service in March. Another large copter will enter service in April.

Probably neither will be on the Marin run, but they will allow more 10-passenger ships to come in here, with a schedule of half-hour intervals in the morning and hour intervals the rest of the day. A five-minute cut-down on flight time to the San Francisco Airport will be effected by being able to eliminate a stop at Berkeley heliport.

The company reports that Marin passenger pickups have been on a par with those originally experienced with the Berkeley heliport when that was first opened. Extension of East Bay service will begin with the opening of another heliport in Contra Costa County March 1.

DONALD O'LEARY of Tiburon has been elected a vice president of Oceanic Properties, the land development subsidiary of Castle and Cooke, Inc., Honolulu. He joined Oceanic last year as Pacific Coast manager, headquartered in San Francisco.

MULTIPLE LISTING figures for December show Marin County real estate sales as totaling $3,589,725 for that month. Not up to the usual monthly figure, but ahead of December, 1963, by more than 15 per cent in dollar volume. Number of transactions were only slightly higher.

OTHER REAL ESTATE NOTES. Davis Realty, San Rafael, is now known as Lincoln Realty. Same address: 1400 Lincoln Avenue. . . . Dee Murphy has closed her office at 258 Redwood Highway and is now with Nowell Associates, 258 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley. Also with Nowell are Gary Minyard, formerly with Mapes Realty; Billie Gorman of Tiburon; Joe Morrison and Carl Peterson, formerly with Southern Marin Reaity. . . . Corrie H. White of Sausalito is now associated with Hugh Washburn, Realtor, 215 Second Street, San Rafael. . . . R. S. Hollister is new at Peterson and Greene, San Rafael.

OWNERS Donald Rosenberg and his associates of Marin Fabric Center, San Rafael, are planning to open a new branch in Napa to be known as Napa Fabric Center, at 1460 First Street.

Eichler-Sunset Merger Dropped

Eichler Homes, Inc., has announced that merger negotiations with Sunset International Petroleum Corp. have been terminated.

Both parties favored the merger, Eichler Homes stated, but they, and their attorneys were unable to formulate a mutually acceptable plan.

Eichler Homes is engaged in home developments in 12 locations in Northern California, including projects in Lucas Valley and Southern Marin County. Sunset International is developing San Marin in Novato.

Safeway Stores Sales Reported

OAKLAND — Safeway Stores, Inc., has announced sales for the five weeks ended Jan. 2, totaled $278,825,913 as against $216,509,963 for the four weeks ended Dec. 28, 1963.

Safeway's consolidated sales for the 53 weeks ended Jan. 2 amounted to $$2,817,620,575 as compared with $2,649,711,512 for the 52 weeks ended Dec. 28, 1963.

There were 2,102 stores in operation as of Jan. 2 this year in comparison 2,059 as of Dec. 28, 1963.

Marin Prep Cage League Tightens Up

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Marinite's Age-Group Program To Be Tested In Track-Field

Fourteen and a half years ago a San Anselmo woman introduced to the sports world a program of age-group swimming. It was tested locally in Northern California, spread across the country like wildfire and culminated in last year's record shattering Olympic performance by America's swimmers.

BETH KAUFMAN

Everyone agrees, Mrs. Beth Kaufman of 118 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo, really started something big in 1950 when she originated the age-group program. It must have given her great satisfaction last October when America's young swimmers completely dominated the Tokyo Olympics. After all, they are the direct descendents of her brainchild.

Age-group swimming has been such a monumental success that it seems strange the Amateur Athletic Union has been so slow in applying its principles to track and field. But this summer, finally, the Pacific Assn., AAU plans a similar program in track and field, looking to 1968 in Mexico City and subsequent Olympic Games.

Already a program has started for girls. Boys, we're informed by the PAAU, will have a similar competitive opportunity next summer. Five age-groups will be set up, ranging from 9 years and younger to the 16-18 class. Mrs. Kaufman's swimming age categories are 10 and under, 11-12, 13-14 and 15-16. Briefly, this program has resulted in the early appearance and recognition of the talented swimmer and in his being trained from an early age to the extent of his capacities without having to compete in terms totally beyond them. Thus, age of champs has lowered dramatically in the past 15 years. Today's champions average about 15 years of age!

TOM MELLIS, a Modesto sportsman and past president of the Pacific Assn., is chairman of the new track and field program. "This age-group track hasn't been tried any place," he says, adding, "We hope to have track and field for the youngsters to give them another sport for the summer months and build our Olympic potential."

Mellis has been visiting Northern California cities to interest civic groups in sponsoring teams in areawide competition. "We are trying to get 10 teams started with five age-group divisions in each," he explains. The Modesto sportsman informs us that his city's Junior Chamber of Commerce has appropriated $2,500 to sponsor a team there.

"WE FEEL that during the 1964 Olympics, the age-group swimming competitions of past years brought great results. We believe the same things can be accomplished in track and field," Mellis said.

"We're building toward the 1968 and subsequent Olympics. We hit a peak in swimming in 14 years; we think we can reach a peak in track in eight."

Mellis has medical information which says children have higher endurance capacities than untrained adults because in relation to body weight, children have greater heart capacity.

Among competition proposed in age-group track are walking events—a U.S. weakness in the international field. Included will be a one-mile walk for kids under 10.

Also, the 9 and under class will have a 660-yard run. Six mile runs are planned in the 16-18 class.

TLIMINATED FROM the program for youngsters are such events as softball and football throwing. When a kid reaches age 12 he can put the 12-pound shot, according to the plan.

We're enthusiastically looking forward to this age-group track and would love to see a Marin team developed, perhaps for inclusion in Mellis' areawide program.

And some day, when U.S. athletes continued to lower track standards and experts point to age-group as the biggest factor —as it has been in swimming— we can all thank San Anselmo's Unsinkable Mollie Brown, Beth Kaufman, for her revolutionary idea back in 1950.

YOUNG PATTERSON DOWN

Ray Patterson, younger brother of former heavyweight champ Floyd Patterson, holds onto the legs of Chuck Wepner as he goes down for a count of eight during the second round of their scheduled six-round heavyweight match in New York last night. That knockdown proved the difference as Wepner won a split decision by the narrow margin of one point. Patterson, who was working on a seven-bout win streak, now has a 9-2 record, and Wepner is 4-0, with one draw. (UPI Telephoto)

MARIN CAGERS RATED NUMBER 12 IN STATE

College of Marin's basketball team, taking a break because of upcoming final examinations, is rated No. 12 in the California Junior College rankings published by JC Sportswire of San Francisco.

Noted in the rankings was Marin's 4-game win streak, the longest string throughout junior colleges in the state.

Marin's current record is 16 wins and 2 losses. The two losses were to Contra Costa, 97-108, and to San Mateo, 64-66. Contra Costa is ranked 7th and College of San Mateo is ranked 10th.

TO REMAIN AT SAN JOSE

Titchenal Quits As Coach

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—San Jose State College head football coach Bob Titchenal has resigned his post, effective immediately, in part because criticism "endangered the future of the football program."

Titchenal, whose resignation yesterday was accepted with regret" by college president Robert D. Clark, had coached eight varsity Spartan football teams to a record of 33 wins, 45 losses and one tie.

The coach said that he wold devote full time to teaching in the men's physical education department.

"Immediate steps" will be taken to name a successor, the school's athletic department said.

The football program at San Jose has been under fire both for last season's 4-6 record and the school's lack of conference standing in football.

Fans and alumni have urged that San Jose — with a student body that has soared to 21,000 enrollment—should enjoy major football status. It has been an independent in football.

Only the University of California at Berkeley and UCLA outrank San Jose State in size in the state of California.

"I feel that criticisms and pressures both inside and out have endangered the football program and if continued would further hinder it," the coach wrote in a letter to the college president.

President Clark said in a statement that changing coaches "will not solve the many problems that have arisen at San Jose State out of our attempts to field a university-level football team within the framework of state college athletic policy."

Walt McPherson, chairman of the physical education department, and Bob Bronzan, athletic director, said in a joint statement that Titchenal "is a fine coach and teacher and as an educator will make a lasting contribution to the physical education department."

"His teams have played an interesting brand of football and have provided us with some of our finest grid victories," they said.

Fresno Open Tournament Lopped From PGA Tour

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The Fresno Open Professional Golf Tournament, which has lost an estimated $20,000 in its two years on the calendar, has been canceled from the Professional Golfers Association 1965 fall tour schedule.

Tournament committee co-chairman Stan Borasi, in making the announcement, said "It is a matter of being unable to agree on dates." Last weekend the PGA tournament committee voted to give the Almaden Open in San Jose the dates requested by Fresno—Oct. 28-31.

Jim Gaquin, tournament manager for the PGA, advised Borasi yesterday that the sponsors of the Almaden "came up with a $40,000 purse, plus a $5,000 pro-am and a $10,,00 bonus for the players making the best combined showing in the Sahara and Almaden." The Sahara will be played the weekend before the Almaden, and the Almaden offer outlined by Gaquin was contingent on receiving the Oct. 28-31 dates. Both the Sahara and Almaden are sponsored by the Del Webb Corp. interests.

Borasi reported Gaquin offered two other weekends, but Oct. 14-17 conflicts with the Fresno District Fair, and Nov. 4-7 was thought too risky because of possible inclement weather, and both were rejected.

Last year's Fresno tourney offered $35,000 in prize money, but lost heavily at the gate.

Jack Sanford Signs New Contract With Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Right-handed pitcher Jack Sanford, who was forced from action in mid-1964 with an arm ailment, signed his 1965 San Francisco contract today, the second Giant to come to terms.

Sanford, who won 24 games including 16 in a row in 1962, was only 5-7 last season when plagued by circulatory trouble in his pitching arm. He underwent surgery in July to clear a blockage in the main artery.

Sanford tested his arm in December at the Arizona Instructional League and said he felt no pain nor numbness. His new contract is believed to call for a salary of between $30,000 and $35,000.

Big Names In Crosby Golf Tournament

By HAL WOOD

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The world's biggest golf and gag show, sometimes known as the Crosby Clambake, otherwise as the National Pro-Amateur golf championship, gets under way tomorrow.

And it has all the elements to produce a multi-million dollar spectacle that would include suspense, tragedy, gags, gals—and a lot of money.

The purse has been upped to $84,500 this year, largest in the 24-year history of the event.

Through the years, Bing Crosby has paid out all the costs and turned over all the gate receipts to charity. The total comes to more than a million dollars.

SOAKED BY RAIN

The three courses over which the 72-hole event is played — Pebble Beach, Monterey Country Club and Cypress Point — were soaked with another big rain yesterday. But the forecast is for clearing skies over the weekend.

"We'll have our greatest cast of all time," says Larry Crosby, who manages the show.

It's the third stop on 1965's $3,000,000 golfing tour. But this one mostly is played for fun—although the pros don't mind the cash they collect.

Defending champion is Tony Lema, the British Open champion, but he could get lost in the shuffle in this cast.

LIST OF PROS

The pros include: National Open champions Ken Venturi (present); and Julius Boros, Bill Casper, Byron Nelson, Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler, Jack Nicklaus, Tommy Bolt and Jack Fleck (all from the past);

PGA king Bobby Nichols, and former PGA winners Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Rosburg, Jerry Barger, Lionel Hebert.

Redwood Wallops Novato '5'

A tenacious defense and outstanding all-around performance by senior forward Tom Bly combined to lead the Redwood Giants to an important 51-38 victory over the slumping Novato Hornets in Marin Athletic League basketball action yesterday at Redwood.

The win lifted the Giants (2-1) past Novato (2-2) for second place behind Drake in the championship race.

Bly, a 6-foot-4 senior, was the busiest man on the court yesterday and must be covered with bruises today. He was awarded 11 foul shots and made good on 9 of them. He also made 4 of 7 field goal attempts for a game high total of 17, led rebounders with 10 and in man-for-man defense held Novato dead-eye John Dolinsek to only two field goals.

"Our strongest point was our defense," said Redwood Coach Dick Hart. "Although it's still early in the season, this was a big win for us because it put us in second place."

Novato didn't get many shots and wound up with only 12 field goals—including only 3 in the first half when Redwood took a 22-14 advantage.

Redwood hit 17 field goals for 36 per cent and 17 of 22 charities. Novato made 14 free throws but missed 10.

Tom Stetson was Novato's leading scorer with 14 points.

Sparnapping Is Chuvalo Camp Claim

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — Is it a case of sparnapping or isn't it?

No one here knows for sure, but Greatest Crawford, one of George Chuvalo's better sparring partners, is missing from the Chuvalo training camp here. And Teddy McWhorter, Chuvalo's trainer, feels certain Crawford has gone over the hill to Floyd Patterson's camp at Marlboro, N.Y., 40 miles away.

Crawford, a Booklyn heavyweight, was a Patterson sparring partner before he joined Chuvalo. Patterson and Chuvalo are preparing for their 12-round fight in Madison Square Garden Feb. 1.

McWhorter says he saw Greatest talking to Al Bolan, a Patterson advisor, Monday night, but didn't think anything of it until Crawford failed to appeared for breakfast yesterday.

A search showed Crawford's bed hadn't been slept in; he wasn't on the grounds at Kutsher's Country Club and local police had no reports of sighting a six-foot heavyweight with a Mandarin mustache.

Streaking Drake Pirates Nip Terra Linda, 42-41

Coach Carl Brown's Sir Francis Drake Pirates, who don't score many points but don't allow many either, protected their grasp on first place in the Marin Athletic League basketball race yesterday by nipping the small and hustling Terra Linda Trojans 42-41 at Drake.

The Pirates had to survive a horrendous display of shooting in the fourth period to hold off the Trojans and notch their third straight league win without a loss. In the final period Drake missed all 12 of its field goal attempts and made only 5 of 12 free throws. But Will Curley made two charities with 15 seconds to go to give the Pirates a 42-38 margin, just enough to offset Trojan Don Knotts' three-point play at the final buzzer.

"Whew, I'm glad to get that one out of the way," said Brown. "It wasn't one of our better games. They (the Trojans) outhustled us and beat us on the boards."

Drake, which has only the league's fifth best offense but the second best defense, enjoyed a 17-point third quarter spree to take a 37-32 lead after Terra Linda led at half, 22-20. Don Knotts and Keith Shields hit seven and eight points respectively to lead the Trojans to their first half edge but Pirates Rick Henika and Larry Stein each canned seven points to give Drake its third period advantage —just enough to offset their fourth period slump.

Henika wound up as high point man with 20 points, the only Pirate in doublef igures. Knotts, praised by rival coach Brown for "a tremendous game," hit for 16 points to lead the Trojans. Shields wound up with 12. Mike Ainslie of Terra Linda was the game's leading rebounder while Drake's Bob Tobin also was outstanding in that phase. He fouled out midway in the third quarter.

San Rafael Cagers Bop Marin Catholic

San Rafael Bulldogs started and finished with a flurry yesterday to smash Marin Catholic 59-46, pulling into a second place tie with the Redwood Giants whom they host Friday in the Marin Athletic League basketball scramble.

Capitalizing on foul shots, of which they made 19 on 31 attempts to Marin's 6 for 18, the Bulldogs spurted to a 26-12 lead in the second quarter, almost blew it, but cranked off nine straight points in the fourth period to enlarge a slim 42-39 lead into a 51-39 spread.

Marin Catholic did some streaking of its own in the second period, making 11 straight points to whittle that 26-12 Bulldog lead into a 26-23 margin which made the game interesting until San Rafael exploded down the home stretch.

Game scoring honors went to the losers' Bill Shine who had 22, but he was the only Wildcat in double figures. Ken Erdman with 17, and little Bill Pandiani and Terry Overlid each with 12 gave the winners a more versatile attack. Erdman hit 7 free throws and Pandiani added 6.

San Rafael outrebounded Marin 37-34. Overlid with 8 and Tom Unterman with 7 led Bulldog rebounders while Tom Soden led Marin in that department with 8.

Redwood Little Giants Take Over Class B Lead

Redwood's Little Giants moved to the head of the pack yesterday in Marin Athletic League's Class B basketball race with their third win without a loss and a half-game lead over the second place Marin Catholic Wildkittens.

Paced by Andre Horn's 17 points and Jack Fitzhenry's 13, the Little Giants downed Novato 51-41. Novato's Jim Byers was a hero in defeat, meshing 23 points—high for the day in both Class B and varsity action.

Marin Catholic, meanwhile, improved its record to 3-1 with a 41-29 decision over San Rafael with three Wildkittens hitting in double figures — Paul Vickers with 12 and Jim Ingrassia and Cesarino Bornia with 10 each. Rich Schau hit 10 for the losers.

In the other Class B game yesterday Sid Norman bucketed 15 points to lead Terra Linda to a 37-24 victory over Drake whose Don Alvarado was high with 8 points.

In junior varsity action Lee Murphy and George Bertram each scored 15 points to lead Redwood to a 52-30 win over Novato and Terra Linda downed Drake 33-30, despite a 15-point performance by Drake's Jerry Sprout. Wayne Arnsbarger led Terra Linda with 11 points. Marin Catholic beat San Rafael, 47-35, with Brian King scoring 16 points for Marin.

On the freshman cage scene, Tom Seidenberg's 12 points paced Redwood over Novato, 39-33 and Terra Linda, behind John Phillips' 12 points, shaded Drake, 36-34. Drake's Dave McClure also scored 12. Marin Catholic downed San Rafael, 49-40, behind the 18 points of John Kowski.

Slege Wins Feature Race

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Sledge, with Ismael Valenzuela up, won the $10,000 Los Angeles County Fair Purse at Santa Anita Park yesterday after a stretch duel with Viking Spirit.

Royal Eiffel was third in the seven-furlong feature.

The time was 1.21 4-5.

Sledge paid $6.60, $4.20 and $3.60. Viking Spirit returned $4.60 and $3.80, and Royal Eiffel $3.80.

Tam Wins Non-League Encounter

Tamalpais Indians enjoyed their bye from Marin Athletic League play yesterday by gaining a 47-43 practice victory over the Petaluma Trojans of the North Bay League.

Two foul shots by Greg Tellis pulled Tam even with Petaluma at 43-all with two minutes to go, a field goal by Ron Pedersen with 38 seconds left put Tam in the lead for keeps and two more charities at the final buzzer by Tellis added the icing for the Indians who now have a 3-10 won-lost record on the season.

Larry Gray led the Indians with 10 points.

Tam used its reserves for experience through the first three quarters and they led Petaluma 32-27 going into the final stanza when Coach Eddie Chavez inserted his first stringers. They almost blew it until Tellis and Pedersen provided the key points near game's end.

First Triumph In Three Tries

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP)— When Manny Ycaza won the rich Garden State with Mrs. Mary B. Hecht's Sadair it marked the Panamanian's first success in three tries in this big event.

Ycaza was third with favored Never Bend in 1962, when Crewman won. Ycaza was fourth with Sophia's Boy in the 1963 race.

Three-Team Trade In American League

Colavito Back To Cleveland

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Outfielder Rocky Colavito returned to the Cleveland Indians today and catcher John Romano went back to the Chicago White Sox in an eight-player trade among three American League clubs.

The Kansas City Athletics sent Colavito to Cleveland; the Indians gave Romano, outfielder Tommie Agee and pitcher Tommy John to Chicago; and the White Sox delivered outfielders Jim Landis and Mike Hershberger and a pitcher to be named later to the A's, and catcher Camilo Carreon to the Indians.

In Cleveland, General Manager Gabe Paul of the Indians said he had been negotiating the deal since last fall.

DON'T MUFF IT

"When you get a chance to get someone like Colavito, you don't muff it," Paul said. "We hated to give up someone with the stature of Romano."

Paul said Romano's recent complaints that he wanted to play more were not a determining factor in the deal.

The 31-year-old Colavito, a popular figure with the Cleveland fans before the Indians traded him to Detroit in 1960, was quoted by Paul as saying:

"I'm delighted. I never wanted to leave Cleveland."

The Indians are hoping that the long-ball slugger not only will help bring back fans but also provide some additional home-run punch in its line-up.

Paul said he figured the acquisition of Colavito would help make the Indians a pennant contender in the 1965 season.

"We always dislike giving up young players like John and Agee but I wanted Colavito back," said Paul. "This is his baseball home."

BATTED .274

Colavito, who had 34 home runs and 102 runs batted in, finished last season at Kansas City with a .274 average.

The 30-year-old Romano was expected to have a battle this spring in trying to become full-time catcher for the Indians. His big problem was Joe Azcue, who helped edge Romano onto the bench since joining Cleveland in May, 1963.

Romano batted .241 last season, hitting 19 homers and driving in 47 runs. He has had trouble regaining his earlier form since being sidelined for most of the 1963 season when he broke his hand in early May.

Romano's best year was in 1961, when he batted .299, hit 21 homers and knocked in 80 runs. He came to the Indians in 1960 from the White Sox.

Hershberger, who had been with the White Sox since 1961, batted .230 last season.

Landis, 30, started his major league career with the White Sox in 1957 and had been with Chicago steadily since 1958. The fleet outfielder was used sparingly last year, when he had a falling out with Manager Al Lopez, and batted .208.

2-9 RECORD

John had a 2-9 record for Cleveland in 1964 and Carreon, sidelined much of the season by injury, hit .274 in 37 games. Agee is regarded as a top-flight young defensive outfielder.

The trade was the Indians' second this winter. Last month they sent utility man Woodie Held and first-baseman-outfielder Bob Chance to Washington for outfielder Chuck Hinton.

Directors of the Indians decided last fall to keep the American League franchise in Cleveland despite slumping attendance. Civic and business leaders promised to support the team and advance ticket sales reached more than $900,000.

The Indians, who finished sixth in 1964 and ended up with a home attendance of 653,293. This compared with 562,507 in 1963.

Cleveland drew over a million each year from 1946-55. Since then the Indians have done it only once, drawing 1,497,976 in 1959 for a second-place club.

Honolulu Race Limit At 60?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Transpacific Yacht Club said yesterday it may have to limit entries to 60 in the July 4 race to Honolulu.

Commodore Steve Newmark said 50 yacht owners have entered to date, and that the Honolulu race committee could be overburdened by having to locate 60 boat slips and 60 hosts for the racers.

Newmark said the largest previous field for the 2,000-mile race was 52 in 1955.

BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

Louisville Mentor Wins 400th Game

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bernard (Peck) Hickman has joined the select group of college basketball coaches who have won 400 games. The coach of the University of Louisville became a member when his Cardinals edged Cincinnati 82-80 in three overtimes last night.

A one-handed shot from the corner by Joe Liedtke, 6-foot-7 sophomore from Erie, Pa., with five seconds left in the third extra period gave Hickman his historic milestone in his coaching career that started in 1945.

Now in his 21st season at Louisville, Hickman-coached teams have won 400 and lost 162, including an 11-4 mark so far this season.

In other games on a national program, held to a minimum by midyear exams, Duquesne ended DePaul's eight-game winning streak 73-69, Purdue downed Notre Dame 78-74, Cornell made it seven in a row by defeating Colgate 92-83 and Harvard handed Dartmouth its 25th straight Ivy League setback 91-79. None of the Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll saw action.

A Louisville turnout of 9,816 saw the Cardinals blow an early 13-point lead and rally to beat Cincinnati, a defeat that virtually eliminated the Bearcats from the tough Missouri Valley Conference race.

The regulation game ended 69-69 and neither team scored in the first overtime. Ronald West's basket for Cincinnati created a 76-76 tie after the second OT. West again tied the score for the Bearcats at 80-80 with 18 seconds to go in the third OT and set the stage for Liedtke's game-winning shot.

Eddie Cramer with 24 points was high scorer for Louisville, now third in the MVC with a 4-2 mark behind Wichita and St. Louis. Ron Krick led Cincinnati with 19.

Little 5-foot-9 Willie Somerset flipped in 42 points at Pittsburgh to lead Duquesne over DePaul. He put the Dukes ahead for good at 56-55 on a jump shot from the corner with eight minutes left.

Keith Sedlacek, with 28 points, and Leo Scully, with 24, led Harvard over Dartmouth at Cambridge. The Crimson spurted in the last six minutes to break the game open after leading by only 68-67.

S. F. Seals Host Blades Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Seals and Los Angeles Blades face off at the Cow Palace tonight in a battle of Western Hockey League tail-enders.

The two squads, who have split their eight meetings so far, both need the win tonight to keep alive their flickering hopes of landing in the playoffs.

Fourth-place Vancouver has 40 points with Los Angeles fifth at 37 and the Seals far back with 31 points.

In their last encounter, which the Seals took 8-3, Los Angeles played without defenseman Howie Young. But the tempermental performer will be back in action tonight. Previous Seals-have produced several fights involving him.

The game will also present fans with several contenders for scoring titles. Norm Johnson of the Blades leads the league with 58 points, two more than Charlie Burns of the Seals.

Wayne Connelly is the circuit leader with 25 goals, while Brian Smith and Willie O'Ree of the Blades have 24 and 23 respectively.

"If we play up to form—one good game, a bad one and a good one again—we should win," Seals coach Bud Poile says. The Seals are fresh from a disastrous 5-1 thumping by first-place Portland.

Tennis Tour May Start In San Rafael

Jerome C. Draper Jr., developer of Peacock Gap Country Club, has plans to personally sponsor a $200,000 American professional tennis tournament tour.

Draper, of San Francisco, has been working with Jack Kramer, all-time tennis great, and John Gardiner of the Carmel Valley Tennis Ranch. The three men, working in equal partnership under the name of World Tennis, plan to sponsor 12 professional net tournaments.

The first of such tournaments would be held at Peacock Gap in San Rafael, then the tourneys would wind throughout the country, finishing up in Boston. The initial tourney would be held in late April, with the last one held in July.

Pros involved in the circuit would include Ken Rosewall, Rod Laver, Lew Hoad, Pancho Gonzales and others. The tour would be parallel with the types of tours professional golf and bowling now have.

According to Draper's plans, the first tourney, the one at his own Peacock Gap club, would have a purse of $25,000. The other 11 tourneys would have $15,000 purses.

Peacock Gap's facilities now include two courts, and Draper's plans call for two more in the immediate future. He would also build a 3,000-seat stadium for the tourney spectators, if the plans materialize.

In addition to San Rafael and Boston, tournaments would also be played in major cities such as New York, St. Louis, Cleveland, Chicago and Los Angeles.

Finals To Start In All-Star Bowling

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dick Weber of St. Louis and Jean Winsch of South Bend, Ind., led 36 survivors from an original field of 632 into the finals of the $100,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament today.

Weber won the qualifying trophy last night for the second time in his 11-year All-Star career with an average of more than 218. He piled up 10,474 pins in 48 games of preliminary action. An old nemesis, Harry Smith of Boston, finished second in the qualifying with 10,408.

Weber, Smith and Billy Welu of St. Louis are the only former champions in the 20-member men's field. Tommy Tuttle, the stocky newcomer from King, N.C., who finished second last year, survived the semifinal cut last night but Bob Strampe, the defending champion, was eliminated when he finished 30th.

Defending women's champion LaVerne Carter of St. Louis was eliminated Monday night when she failed to survive the first preliminary cut.

Mrs. Winsch, 40-year-old mother of two, won the women's qualifying trophy with a modest 196 average. She totaled 5,886 for 30 games, enough to edge out second-place Helen Duval of Berkeley, Calif., by 35 pins. Olgar Gloor of Chicago finished third with 5843 and Betty Kuczynski of Chicago was fourth with 5,840.

The sponsoring Bowling Proprietors Association of America will inaugurate a new format for the five-day finals which will be climaxed by a nationally televised championship match on Sunday, Jan. 24.

Both the men's field and the women's roster of 16 will be separated into two divisions. Contestants in each division will bowl a series of two round robin matches with each bowler in their own division. In addition, they will cross over to bowl single matches with opponents in the other division.

The final match of the tournament will pit "winners" of the various divisions.

The most spectacular rookie finalist in the men's division is 21-year-old Dwane Martin of Wichita, Kan. The lanky sharpshooter cracked both the six and 12-game All-Star records Tuesday. Martin's spectacular 246-248-280-259-232-215 — 1479 series in the last semifinal round shattered the one-day-old mark of 1,472 set by Gene Rhoda of Valparaiso, Ind., on Monday. Martin's 2,824 for the entire 12-game semifinals was also a record.

Dave Tomberg of Ft. Hood, Tex., fired the third perfect game of the current tournament but it was not enough to help him earn a berth in the finals.

Chamberlain Vs. Warriors Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain and his old teammates—the San Francisco Warriors — headed for Philadelphia today where the Warriors are scheduled to meet the 76ers tomorrow night.

Chamberlain, traded by the Warriors last week to the 76ers for three players and cash, was given a sendoff party by friends last night.

The game will be the big center's first in a 76er uniform and the first in a Warrior suit for Connie Dierking, the 6-9 center who went to the Warriors with guard Paul Neumann and forward Lee Shaffer.

After the trade a week ago, Dierking stayed in Philadelphia to settle personal affairs. Chamberlain returned to San Francisco for the same purpose.

When Shaffer would play his first game was uncertain. He did not play this season because of a contract dispute with the 76ers.

Marin Team May Enter S.F. Police Baseball League

Plans were made Monday night by Marin Police Athletic League officers to enter a team in the San Francisco Police Baseball League and for a benefit variety performance to be given in June.

"We will start getting a team together right away," said Herbert T. Smith, president. He added that the age group is yet to be decided.

Ervin Weber, managing director of the International Assn. of Old Time Variety Artists, San Francisco, and the Marin PAL reached a tentative agreement for Weber's group to put on an old time vaudeville show during June. The league met in Sausalito where Smith is a patrolman.

HOLING PUTTS IS AN INSPIRED PIECE OF BUSINESS. YOU EITHER HAVE IT, OR YOU DON'T. BUT HERE'S A TIP:— ONLY PUTTS THAT HOLD THEIR LINE WILL EVER FIND THE HOLE. THAT MEANS THE BALL'S GOTTA HAVE OVERSPIN — TO HOLD A TRUE COURSE AND REACH THE HOLE.

DON'T PICK UP THE PUTTER BLADE ON THE BACK-SWING. DRAW IT BACK SLOWLY ON A FLAT PLANE—AND STRIKE THE BALL WITH AN ASCENDING BLOW (THE WAY YOU HIT A HOOP) TO GIVE IT OVER-SPIN.

Third, Fourth Or Last, This Horse Still Paid Off

LONDON (AP) — Many bettors in England, where bookie shops are legal, collected yesterday on a horse who finished third, was announced as fourth, but actually was last in a 14-horse field.

The mixup happened in the last race at Warwick. Upall Night, a 50-1 hazard, finished third, but jockey F. Morris failed to weigh in. This automatically disqualified Upall Night to last place, but it was announced that he had been placed fourth.

The error was quickly corrected, but not in time to prevent payment by many bookies to thousands of gleeful bettors who had picked Upall Night for fourth. Fourth-place payoffs are common in England when there are big fields. He paid 12 to 1 for fourth.

GRIDDER SAYS: 'ME TARZAN'

Mike Henry, Los Angeles Rams linebacker, signed a movie contract yesterday to become the next screen Tarzan, the 14th since the series began in 1918. The 6-foot, 3-inch linebacker will star in the title role of "Tarzan, 65," in which the ape man will swing in Mexico City instead of the African jungles. Henry was signed by producer Sy Weintraub for the picture which will be filmed next month. (UPI Telephoto)

Three Marin Lifters Win 1st Places

Three members of the Mar-Vel Athletic Club of Marin won their divisions at the Ray Van Cleef Memorial Invitational weight-lifting meet last Sunday in Santa Clara.

Carrol Varner of San Rafael lifted 325 pounds in the 198-pound class to win and earn himself a trophy for the outstanding lifter of the meet. Ed Gerson, Drake High School student, won the 123-pound class and Dan Schwed of Terra Linda High won the 132-pound class.

Bryant Hamilton (123-pound class) of San Rafael High; Terry Johnson (148) of San Rafael High, and Frank Holton (165) of Drake High, took second places. Third place trophies were won by Leon Center (165) of San Rafael High and Ron Johnson (198), also of San Rafael High.

Next match for the MarVel lifters will be Feb. 13 at the Travis Open Olympic-Lifting Championships, sponsored by the Military Air Transport Service, at Travis Air Force Base.

At the last meeting of the MarVel Athletic Club's general membership, Carrol Varner was elected president. Other officers elected were Dan Preston, vice president; Denny Untermann, secretary; Ron Johnson, treasurer; Chet Pape, social chairman, Edd Ghiringhelli, publicity director; Roger Harnell, sergeant at arms, and Steve Dillman, manager.

Harney Goes To Top Of Golf Money Listings

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Paul Harney is the biggest money winner of the new year in Professional Golfer's Association standings with the $12,000 he has banked thus far.

The PGA announced yesterday that Harney leads Billy Casper by $5,000 through the San Diego Open. Only official PGA tournaments count in the earnings.

Neither Jack Nicklaus, top money winner of 1964, nor Arnold Palmer show up in the new list of leaders.

The leaders in order:

Harney, Casper, $7,000; Dan Sikes Jr., $6,500; George Knudson, $5,300; Wes Ellis Jr., $4,850; Tony Lema, $4,125; Gene Littler, $3,175; Charles Sifford, $3,175; Charles Coody, $2,858, and Johnny Pott, $2,625.

Checkers have been played since the 16th Century.

MISSING THOSE PUTTS?

It's Fault Of That Stance

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Remember that last 20-foot putt that rimmed the cup and skipped away?

Well, says an eye specialist, an upright, between-the-legs putting stance might have made the difference — especially for a golfer with a large, protruding nose.

The usual putting method, in which duffers and pros alike crouch over the ball with their side toward the hole, is a major stumbling block to good depth perception on the greens, said Dr. William W. Vallotton of Charleston, S.C.

Moreover, if the golfer happens to be endowed with "a large nasal bridge" — big nose, to you — he actually sees the hole out of only one eye if he putts from the usual stance, said Vallotton in a report in the Southern Medical Journal.

In contrast, he related, the upright, between-the-legs putting stance — in which a mallet-like putter is used like a croquet club — helps assure the depth perception required to hole those 20-footers.

Driving hard at the conventional stance, the ophthalmologist followed through with:

"All our daily activities that require good depth perception are performed with head erect, and the nose does not obscure the vision of one eye.

"Yet we try a most difficult task such as putting in a most unphysiological way."

TOO MUCH TILT

Declaring that most golfers tilt their heads by as much as 90 degrees — and some by even more — the doc said that once one's noggin is tilted more than 13 degrees, the eye muscles that normally rotate the eye are apt to do some mighty strange things.

For example, "the vertical muscles begin acting as horizontal muscles, and the horizontal muscles as semi-vertical muscles."

Dr. Vallotton said such deviations can "wreak havoc with the finer fusional components of binocular vision."

In other words, the hole isn't where you thought it was.

The doctor said he ran depth perception tests on 53 golfers. With the head not tilted, he said, the average depth perception score was three times better than when the head was tilted in the usual putting stance.

TRIED OUT

Dr. Vallotton isn't breaking new ground. Several months ago professional golfer Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., tried out the croquet style putter with some good results, and some other pros also took a fling at it.

Even if golfers don't follow the doctor's advice, think of the ready-made excuse he's given the duffer.

As Dr. J. Howard Stokes of Florence, S.C., commenting on Dr. Vallotton's article in the same issue of the journal put it:

"One can easily visualize the victim of the foursome explaining his poor game by simply stating that on the last putt his phoria suddenly became a trophia—and no one putts well with a tropia."

Legislature May Be Chasing Deer Again

By EDWIN S. CAPPS
Capitol News Service

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—There appears to be every indication that the California Legislature is going to indulge in deer management during this current session.

This means, in effect, that the efforts of the game management personnel of the department of fish and game, as well as the many years of experience that members of the fish and game commission have had in studying the problem, listening to the public, and making decisions, will be thrown out the window.

The troubles started in 1963 when the lawmakers failed to renew the regulatory powers of the fish and game commission — the powers to set seasons, limits and regulations for hunting and fishing. In a later special session, the Legislature renewed the powers for two years, but provided the commission could have no powers of deer management in Modoc County, or portions of Shasta, Siskiyou and Lassen counties.

RIDICULOUS

For two years in a row, it was necessary to have an attorney general's opinion to determine if there would even be a deer hunting season. Last year found the ridiculous situation of a deer season in the northeast opening on a Monday and closing on a Tuesday. In the space of a few miles along the Lassen-Plumas county line, there were three separate deer hunting seasons at the same time, each with its own regulations.

This is an example of how the Legislature has done lately in its attempts at deer management.

Now this writer, as well as other interested parties, probably has been too harsh on one or two lawmakers who have been primarily responsible for the Legislature's entry into the deer management business. Because the responsibility is on the shoulders of all 80 assemblymen and all 40 senators. While the meddling may be limited to a relatively few legislators, the rest have gone along with it. Whether this was because of lack of interest or for any other reason, there still is no lessening of this responsibility.

NEW BILL

Comes now Sen. Paul J. Lunardi (D-Roseville) with a bill aimed at perpetuating the mistake made in 1963. Lunardi's bill would extend the powers of the fish and game commission for two years, but retain the provision the commission would have no deer management powers in northeastern California.

Lunardi apparently is under the impression that, just because a law is on the books, it must be continued, regardless of whether it's good or bad. But a big part of the legislative process is correcting oversights or errors committed in past years.

In addition to this attempt to keep the commission from managing deer in the northeastern corner of the state, there are reports now that a proposal will be coming along to set up some special deer hunting regulations for a section of Modoc County, along the Nevada border.

DEPREDATION HUNTS

This will be accomplished, the reports have it, by amending a bill dealing with depredation hunts. It would involve a "deer demonstration area," with either sex hunting for five to 10 years, to provide relief to ranchers in the area from hungry deer.

If this plan is introduced in the form of legislation, it will serve notice that some elements of the Legislature feel they are more skilled in the knowledge of the science of deer management than the people who have devoted their working lives to it.

If such events occur and the Legislature denies the appointed commission and state agency the right to act in the northeastern area, but sets itself up as the expert, we repeat it must go down as a mark against each member.

New Directors For Belvedere Tennis Club

Five new members were elected to the board of directors of the Belvedere Tennis Club.

John Hemingway, Mrs. Francois G. Leydet, Henry Balsom, Richard Salladin and Thomas Fleming were elected by members at the annual meeting Sunday.

The board will meet to elect from among directors a president to replace David Allen, outgoing head of the organization.

Board members renewed the contract of club pro J. Paul Wilkins. Twelve tournaments are scheduled for the year, including the state sanctioned Juniors Tournament July 12-16, the Tiburon Peninsula Mixed Doubles and Chamber of Commerce Mixed Doubles competitions next fall.

Little League Sign-Ups Slated

Sign-ups for the Novato Little League will be held Friday and Saturday in the city's Community Clubhouse.

Friday's sign-ups will be taken from 7 and 9 p.m. and Saturday's from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. To be eligible, boys' birthdates must fall between Aug. 1, 1952 and July 31, 1956.

Birth certificates and a $6 per family registration fee are requested, said league publicist S. C. Moats.

Lima Beans Can Be Exotic In Rarebit

Green lima beans can be exotic or prosaic, according to their preparation, in addition to being nutritious and satisfying.

Nestled in a bed of lettuce leaves, seasoned with a touch of thyme, and gently cooked till tender, they provide a simple but tangy accompaniment to the most ordinary entree.

Cheese and green lima beans perform savor magic when combined in a rarebit. Friends and family will be delighted with this nourising late supper idea. All of the ingredients can be prepared ahead of time and put together quickly at the last minute. For this reason it is a good choice for meeting and bridge luncheons, or after a day-long family outing.

In their prosaic role, as the basic ingredient in casseroles with meat leftovers, green lima beans are filling and supply added protein, vitamin C, and thiamine

As with other fresh vegetables, green lima beans should be cooked with care. Overcooking not only reduces their food value, but affeets their flavor and appearance. One excellent way to prepare green lima beans is to place the frozen beans in a double thickness of aluminum foil, season with salt, pepper, garlic salt, and pieces of partially-cooked bacon and cook them in their foil package in oven for 10-15 minutes.

FRENCH-STYLE GREEN LIMA'S

1 package frozen green lima beans
4 or 5 lettuce leaves
4 green onions, chopped
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Pinch thyme
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Defrost green lima beans. Arrange lettuce leaves on bottom heavy saucepan; add green lima beans, chopped onions, sugar, salt, pepper, thyme, water, and butter. Cover tightly and cook over low heat till green lima beans are done, 10 to 15 minutes. Add more water during cooking if necessary. Makes 4 servings.

LIMA BEAN RAREBIT

2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon dry mustard
Dash of cayenne pepper
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 cup buttermiik
¼ cup (2 oz. can) mushroom bits and pieces with liquor
1 package frozen baby lima beans, cooked and drained
2¾ cups shredded Chedder cheese
4 slices hot, buttered toast

In saucepan melt butter; blend in flour, mustard, pepper, Worchestershire sauce to form a smooth paste. Gradually stir in buttermilk; heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; add mushrooms, green lima beans, and cheese. Then heat, stirring constantly, until cheese melts. Serve immediately over toast.

PORK CHOPS AND LIMAS

2 packages frozen green lima beans, cooked and drained
4 to 6 pork chops, cut ½ inch thick
¼ to ½ cup apple jelly
¼ teaspoon caraway seed

Place the tenderly cooked green lima beans into a buttered, 2-quart baking dish. Brown chops and place on top of green lima beans. Stir caraway seeds into jelly, spread on top of chops. Cover and bake at 350° for 35 minutes. Uncover and bake 10 to 15 minutes longer, or until chops are done. Makes 4-6 servings.

SOUR CREAM BEANS

1 tablespoon minced, fresh parsley
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 cup sour cream
2 packages frozen green lima beans, cooked and drained
½ cup coarsely grated American cheese
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
½ cup dry bread crumbs

Gently saute onion and parsley in 2 tablespoons butter till tender but not brown. Add flour, salt, pepper, and lemon peel. Add sour cream and mix well. Stir in green lima beans; heat and stir gently. Turn into a 10 x 6 x 1½-inch baking dish. Top with grated cheese. Combine melted butter and bread crumbs; sprinkle over green lima beans. Broil at low heat till cheese melts and crumbs brown. Makes 6 generous servings.

Victorian Pound Cake With Frosty Apple Sauce Dessert

Victorian Spice Pound Cake with Frosty Apple Sauce is reminiscent of Victorian elegance. Not that as a dessert it's elaborate. It has great simplicity and restraint, in fact, but the sauce is served in sparkling crystal. And the spice pound cake, so plain yet special, is a type of cake much in favor for the stately teas of the Victorian era.

Frosty Apple Sauce itself, however, is a modern of moderns. Treated to lemon juice, a little sugar, a trace of mace, then chilled and fluffed, a great dreamy spoonful is dipped over each slice of the cake.

The cake? Lavish with eggs for richness, it has close, smooth texture. And owes its old time flavor to nutmeg, ginger and brandy.

THE CAKE

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
5 eggs, separated
2¼ cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ tsp. nutmeg
2 tsp. ground ginger
2 tblsp. brandy
1 tsp. vanilla
Confectioners sugar

Cream butter and sugar until light and fulffy. Beat egg yolks until thick and light. Sift flour with other dry ingredients. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture, alternately with stiffly beaten egg whites. Mix until very smooth and creamy; stir in flavorings. Turn into a well-greased tube pan. Bake in slow oven, 325 degrees, about 1 hour or until top is firm to the touch. Cool in pan 15 minutes, then turn out onto rack. Sprinkle with confectioners sugar before slicing. Serve in slices, topping each with a generous spoonful of Frosty Gravenstein Apple Sauce. Makes 1 large pound cake—serves about 10.

FROSTY APPLE SAUCE

2 cups canned apple sauce
1 tblsp. lemon juice
2 tblsp. sugar
⅛ tsp. mace

Combine all ingredients. Spoon into ice cube tray and chill in freezer for about 2 hours, or until mixture begins to crystalize around edges. Turn into a chilled bowl, fluff up by beating with an electric mixer (or rotary hand beater) for a minute or so. Spoon into stemmed crystal serving dish and serve with cake. Makes 2 cups.

'Jet-Age' Chicken Stew Is Best When With Dumplings

How cooks do enjoy giving their recipes catchy names! A friend kept telling us about her "Jet Age Chicken Stew."

When we looked puzzled, she said, "You know, the speedier-than-speed kind of chicken and dumpling dish that women nowadays like to cook."

JET AGE CHICKEN STEW

1½ teaspoons salt
1 tsp monosodium glutamate
1 tsp paprika
¼ cup butter or margarine
1½ cups water
1 tbsp instant minced onion
1 tsp leaf thyme
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen mixed vegetables
1 package (8 ounces) refrigerated buttermilk biscuits
Flour for gravy

Sprinkle chicken pieces on both sides with 1 teaspoon of the salt, the monosodium glutamate and paprika. Heat butter in a large skillet; add chicken and brown on both sides. Add water, onion, and thmye; simmer, covered, for 15 to 25 minutes or until chicken is almost tender. Add vegetables and remaining ½ teaspoon salt; bring to a boil. Top with biscuits and simmer, uncovered, for 10 minutes. Cover and simmer 10 minutes longer, until chicken is tender and biscuit "dumplings" are cooked. Remove dumplings and chicken pieces to serving dish; keep warm. Mix flour (amount will depend on how thick you like your gravy) with a little cold water, keeping smooth; stir into vegetable mixture in skillet; cook and stir gently until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Pour vegetable gravy over chicken and dumplings. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Note: Remove frozen mixed vegetables from freezer when you start to prepare this stew so they will be slightly defrosted.

Men Best Cooks Because Of An Inner Potential

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Men become the best cooks because "they have more of an inner potential for good cooking than women," says Walter R. Wasson, commercial foods teacher at Cincinnati Central High School.

Wasson has been teaching boys and girls how to become professional cooks for many years.

"A woman would make a poor chef," Wasson said. "Imagine a woman trying to cook for 2,500 people. It's hard work. A woman would get to a certain point and just start crying and run away, probably. That's why you don't see women chefs."

Heart Assn. Sponsors New Weight Class

New classes in weight control sponsored by the Marin County Heart Assn. will begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday and continue for 16 weeks at Ross General Hospital.

For residents in the Novato area, classes will open Tuesday at Novato General Hospital and continue each Tuesday for 16 weeks.

Participants of the former classes shed a total of 391 pounds in a 12 week period of weight control study which ended Jan. 5.

Both classes are open to men and women registrants upon physician referral and are under the direction of registered dietitians Pamela Gilroy and Frances Dahl.

The 16 week course will also feature for its speakers a doctor, physical therapist, psychiatrist and home economist. A lecture in dress designing to flatter the figure, films and round table discussions will provide additional interest levels of the low calorie study. Adaptation of recipes to low fat menus will be demonstrated.

Planned as part of a community service program, the weight control classes place special emphasis on establishing eating patterns to control weight problems.

Enrollments for classes may be made with the Marin County Heart Assn. in San Rafael.

Fund Campaign Opening For Planned Parenthood Assn.

Mrs. Richard Secrist of Novato, campaign chairman and past president of the Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin, announced the opening of its 1965 fund drive this week.

The Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin County first saw patients in 1930 in the medical offices of Dr. Chanra Perry of Sausalito. A year and a half ago its permanent headquarters were established in San Rafael at 18 Mary St.

According to the association president, Mrs. Charles Bodington of San Anselmo, "our program has grown rapidly these past few years. This is primarily due to the public's increasing concern over the population explosion and to newer methods of birth control used in recent years."

The association's clinic provides information, instruction and/or medication to persons desiring it. Mrs. Bodington emphasized that "we provide methods that will be consistent with personal preferences and religious beliefs of all our patients."

The Marin group is affiliated with the national Planned Parenthood-World Population Assn. whose headquarters are located in New York City. Dr. William C. Langford is chairman of the group's medical advisory board, and the Rev. John Riley of San Rafael heads the clergymen's advisory committee.

Mrs. Victor Sloman, executive director of the Marin Assn., said "our main emphasis this year has been trying to reach people in the lower income group and other needy families. Private cost is prohibitive to these people and because of current policies of our county and state governments they cannot get these services through any public welfare agency.

Mrs. Sloman said patients attending the clinic are charged fees on a scale according to their ability to pay. Because the association is serving a larger number of low income families, it is having to bear a larger amount of the patients' costs. The budget has been increased 40 per cent this coming year.

Volunteers are mailing information to their regular contributors. However, because it is the only volunteer organization working the field of birth control in the state and receives no other funds the association believes that there are many others who wish to contribute. Contributions are mailed to Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin, 18 Mary St., San Rafael.

Lt. Bowe Weds Connie Putnam

St. Brigid's Church in San Francisco was the setting for the wedding of Connie Joyce Putnam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Putnam of Princeton, Mo., and Lt. Leonard N. Bowe of San Rafael at 11 a.m. on Jan. 7.

Connie wore a white suit with pink hat for the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Robert Tobin of Hamilton Air Force Base was matron of honor in a navy blue suit.

Lt. Col. Robert Tobin of Hamilton served as best man.

The bride was graduated from St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing in Kansas City, Mo. She is presently a nurse at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Bowe of Chippewa Falls, Wis. He was graduated from Marquette University with a major in personnel management. Lt. Bowe is serving with the U. S. Air Force as management engineer at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Following a wedding trip to San Luis Obispo and southern California, the couple will reside in San Rafael.

FRED GOERNER

Amelia Earhart Will Be Subject Of Zonta Speech

Fred Goerner, co-host of KCBS Radio's Spectrum 74 program, will speak at the meeting tomorrow of Zonta Club at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. P. K. Gilman in Ross.

The subject of his talk will be Amelia Earhart, the story of whom Mr. Goerner has investigated during two trips to the Mariana Islands. He reported the discovery of the wreckage of a World War II bomber in the Sierra Nevada mountains in Aug. 1960 and was given the Sigma Dela Chi distinguished service award for the story.

Mr. Goerner has authored a book on the Earhart investigation entitled, "Amelia" which will be published this spring by McGraw-Hill.

To Speak Tuesday

Mary K. Jones will speak on "Family Life and Sex Education" at 8 p.m. on Tuesday in St. Paul's Episcopal Church parish hall in San Rafael.

Marin Women

Barbara Elliott Will Be Bride In June Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Elliott of Belvedere Island have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Elliott, to Richard Wojcik of Chicago, Ill.

Barbara was graduated from the University of California at Davis, Dominican College and Marin Catholic High School. She is employed at the Ross Elementary School. Thomas E. Elliott of Tiburon, is her brother. The future bride's paternal grandmother is Mrs. Joseph Elliott of Napa.

The future benedict is the son of Mrs. Joseph Wojcik of Chicago and the late Mr. Wojcik. He was graduated from St. Mary's of Winona, Minnesota, and is a member of the Nomad Ski Club. He is employed at Standard Bank and Trust in Chicago, as an industrial loan officer. Mrs. Albert Glatz of Chicago is his sister.

BARBARA ELLIOTT

The couple plan a June wedding and will make their home in Chicago.

Aransons Will Be On Club Program

Sausalito Gate Theater players Jack Aranson and his wife, Mary Rose McMaster, will present an afternoon of dramatic entertainment tomorrow for the Sausalito Woman's Club.

Drama chairman Mrs. Chester Solberg will introduce the couple at 2:30 p.m.

A native Californian, Aranson first left San Francisco in 1949 for London and trained two years at the Old Vic's Theater School. In 1951 he joined the McMaster Shakespeare Company in Ireland, where he appeared in a variety of leading roles. In 1955 he played with Orson Welles in "King Lear." He appeared in many major television programs and off-Broadway shows.

Mary Rose McMaster first appeared on the stage of the Abbey Theater at the age of two. Leaving school at 11 to play in her father's Shakespearean touring company, she progressed to leading roles.

Currently the couple is performing in "Hamlet" at the Gate Theater. Mrs. Emile Waldteufel, a member of the Sausalito Woman's Club, is also in the cast.

Greeting members will be Mesdames Robert McGill and Harold Rosenblum. Tea chairman Mrs. Perry Brock will be assisted by Mesdames John F. Churchill and Felix J. Johnson. Floral decorations will be done by Mrs. Jack Wood.

Tamalpais High Girls' Banquet

The Girls' Athletic Assn. of Tamalpais High School will hold an awards banquet tomorrow. Dinner will be served in Ruby Scott auditorium from 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.

New members will be initiated and officers installed. They are Donna Drexler, president; Mary K. Stroube, vice president; Pat Collins, secretary-treasurer; Karen Bertalla, recording secretary, and Debbie Rigby, program chairman.

Maureen Curtin To Become Bride

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Curtin of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter, Maureen Frances, to James Frederick Evermann.

Maureen is the granddaughter of Lloyd W. Shisler of San Francisco and the sister of Kathleen and John J. Curtin Jr. of San Rafael. She was graduated from Dominican High School and attended College of Marin.

The future bridegroom is the the son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Evermann of Gardenville, Nev., and the brother of Mrs. William Price and Steve Evermann, both of Gardnerville, and Sister Mary Lyle, B.V.M., of Tucson, Ariz. He is currently serving with the U. S. Navy aboard the USS Howard W. Gilmore in Charleston, S. C.

AN AUGUST wedding in Hawaii is planned by Dottie Patterson and Michael Mote of Sausalito. Their engagement was announced at a party at the home of the bride's parents in Hawaii.

Mote-Patterson Betrothal Told At Dinner In Hawaii

The engagement of Dorothy Jane Patterson and Michael Isnardi Mote was announced at a dinner party given in the home of the future bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. William B. Patterson of Wailuku, Maui, Hawaii.

Michael is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Clayton D. Mote of Sausalito.

The bride-elect, who is better known as "Dottie," expects to be graduated in June from San Francisco State College with B. S. and R. N. degrees.

She is the sister of Lois Patterson of Princeton, N. J., Ann F. Patterson of San Francisco and Carol Lynn Patterson, a student at the University of Washington.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Michael holds a B. A. degree from the University of California, an M. A. degree from San Francisco State College and is currently working for a doctorate in neurobiology at the University of California at Los Angeles. He is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

He is the brother of Clayton Daniel Mote Jr. of Pittsburgh, Pa. and Peter Mote of Sausalito and the grandson of Dr. and Mrs. Mario Isnardi of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse F. Mote of Berkeley.

The young people will be married in August in Hawaii and will live in Los Angeles until Michael completes his studies.

Sacramento Image-Building Backfires In Smog Hearing

Image-building is a national pastime for Americans, both big and small.

State legislators are no exception. Some assemblymen are reported considering the employment of a highly paid press agent to improve their public image. Others are talking of a documentary movie on the Legislature.

Legislators have reason to be even more image-conscious than the laymen. By the very nature of their occupations, their success or failure depends on the degree of esteem with which they are held in the public eye.

But when legislative image-building descends to the personal level of "grandstanding" at legislative committee hearings at the expense and humiliation of appointive state officials, it becomes embarrassing and disgraceful.

The rapid-fire interrogation administered by a joint legislative committee on staff members of car smog control last week was more than a display of impatience. A few of the committee members seemed more interested in building their public image as champions of the public outcry against our smog devices than in probing the issues.

Some of the questions were berating and humiliating. Witnesses were interrupted before they had a chance to answer or even start to explain.

They were ordered on and off the witness stand like a group of inmates in a prison lineup. It is to their credit that state smog and health officials kept their composure and courteously bowed in and out as ordered.

In fairness to the majority of the committee members, it should be pointed out that most of the questions, though curt, were appropriate. It was the few outbursts that went beyond the realm of common courtesy.

When witnesses begin rambling off to side issues or become repetitious, it is the duty of the presiding officer to bring him back to the main issue or cut off extraneous testimony.

Even then, a certain amount of courtesy can be used. The arrogant line of questioning adopted by some legislators prompted one assemblyman to plead for courtesy. He called the proceedings "embarrassing."

The legislative "dressing down" that smog officials got may have warmed the hearts of some opponents of car smog devices. But frankly, we too were embarrassed.

While we applaud the legislative committee for bringing facts into the open and urging a relaxing of laws on car smog devices, we cannot go along with the manner in which smog officials were made public whipping boys, groveling at the feet of their legislative bosses.

In our eyes, the image of some of the legislators dropped to new lows.

More Beautiful Than Emeralds

When the sunshine comes out immediately after the rain stops and is caught and reflected in tens of thousands of tiny droplets hanging on an acacia or other similar feathery foliaged tree or shrub, it is as if a treasure chest of finely cut gems had been opened up to the full splendor of daylight.

All the more lovely for their ephemeral quality, they are more beautiful than diamonds and emeralds.

These fleeting moments of loveliness help make winter in Marin worthwhile.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Another Bill Written To Hide News Of Wrong-Doers' Arrests

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Another attempt to bar the public from knowing about the public's business is before the State Legislature, this time a measure authored by Assemblyman Tom C. Carrell (D-San Fernando), who has introduced a bill which, if adopted, would close arrest records in police departments to public scrutiny.

Carrell, an automobile dealer in San Fernando, is somewhat noted for introducing bills before the Legislature which would injure the activities of newspapers.

THE POLICE REPORTER on the job for newspapers in any community is the individual responsible for advising the community of the activities of this tax-supported public service.

The San Fernando assemblyman, however, would make it more difficult for the police reporter to do his job.

The measure proposes nondisclosure of records of arrests, and of incidental detention and confinement, on the request of the arrested person.

Conceivably, every person arrested could, if he so chose, demand that no publicity be given to his arrest, without rhyme or reason. The mere request would be enough to demand the withholding of news from the public.

IN OTHER STATES of the Union, attempts have been made to withhold police blotters from public scrutiny. So far, these attempts have been unsuccessful, and will probably continue to be. But there are always individuals like Carrell, who swear to maintain a public trust, but who attempt to deprive the public of its just due after they get elected to public office.

When an individual is placed in police custody, and booked for any reason at all, it is a matter of public record.

THERE APPEARS to be no reason, therefore, why the public should be denied the knowledge of this police activity. After all, the public happens to be paying the bill. The theory is that the police are not arresting anyone or holding anyone in custody unless there is some suspicion they may be involved in a crime, and therefore, why should the public not know about the arrest?

The proposed Carrell bill goes even farther. It would provide for nondisclosure of the police blotter in cases of failure to bring to trial, dismissal, acquittal and certain other circumstances, thereby further denying the public of its right to know.

THE NET RESULT of Carrell's measure would be to close virtually all police activity to public scrutiny. It would not be long before persons arrested on suspicion of criminal activity would start demanding that no disclosure of the police blotter be made.

The protection of the people in cases of this type appears to be more important than the protection of the individual who might be arrested. Yet the San Fernando assemblyman has not taken this into consideration in his attempt to deny the public information concerning police activities.

Carrell's measure is not slated to go any place. In fact, if it gets out of committee, he will have scored some kind of achievement.

More Views On Commissioners

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In response to your editorial of Jan. 11, regarding the "Resignation of County Commissioners," may I submit the following thoughts.

As a citizen interested in the orderly growth of our uniquely endowed county, I have observed the planning commission meetings over the past year. The failure of the majority of planning commissioners to prepare themselves adequately in planning background, to do their "homework," and to participate fully in finding solutions to planning problems, in my estimation warrants a thorough reappraisal of the effectiveness of this body. The pressure of population influx urgently requires a planning commission of the highest calibre available to serve on this most vital organ of county planning. A word of praise is due those few planning commissioners who serve conscientiously and with knowledge in this field.

Another area requiring special thought is that of "conflict of interest." In planning matters, the general welfare (present and future) must be foremost in reaching decisions and this has not been characteristic of the present body. I therefore urge that persons involved in developing land in unincorporated areas be eliminated from possible selection. It follows that a representative of private interests can not justifiably cast a vote on a public matter without prejudicing himself. By withholding his vote on all pertinent planning matters, he renders himself ineffectual as a commissioner and as a public servant. I do not belittle the contribution a person experienced in the building industries can make to the planning commission. I ask only that their investments lie outside the unincorporated area of the county.

In closing, may I suggest that commissioners are appointed to serve the best interests of the county. If they fail to fulfill this function, why should they be retained?

Planning Commission Makeup Challenged

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your Jan. 11 editorial contained the surprising statement that "The construction and real estate development industry most certainly should have representation on the planning commission."

On the contrary, the probability of conflict of interest is so high that representatives of these industries should not be appointed to planning groups. Real estate and construction people constantly appear before planning boards, in the course of their business affairs, with the aim of obtaining easements, variances (otherwise known as bending the law), subdivisions, zonings and re-zonings, etc.

In the less naive area of national politics, the president's nominee for Secretary of Commerce has resigned his private position and turned all his stocks over to a trust fund which will even make out his income tax, so that he will not know what stocks he holds.

On the level of county government, such a requirement would be impossible. Our safeguard there is to appoint to public bodies only those citizens whose occupations are not directly connected with the public judgments they must pass.

Communism No. 1 Disease

Editor, Independent-Journal:

President Johnson, in his State of the Union message, proposed "regional medical centers can provide the most advanced diagnosis and treatment for heart disease, cancer and other major diseases." I fully agree with President Johnson's proposal and feel that the first center should be set up to diagnose and to eliminate from the face of the earth the cancerous disease commonly known as communism. This disease has killed about 5 million in the Ukraine, 20 million in China, and in South Korea, 135,000 Americans killed, 1 million South Koreans dead, another million maimed and wounded and 9 million left homeless.

The American Bar Association report put the need to study this disease this way: "We can no more save our Republic from communism merely by saying we are against communism than parents can save their children from polio by fervently being against polio. To conquer any disease requires intelligent study to isolate the germ and discover the vaccine. As the number one killer in the world today, communism is a disease which merits our urgent study."

Within four decades this plague has spread through roughly 40 per cent of the world's population and 25 per cent of the earth's surface. It is time to eliminate this disease from mankind.

Monday night, President Johnson said, "I propose we begin a massive attack on crippling and killing diseases." For the sake of all Americans and all mankind, I pray that this was not just political oratory, but a promise of action.

Two survivors of a shipwreck climbed wearily up the beach of a desert island. "Do you think they'll ever find us?" worried one. "They're bound to," the other reassured him. "I haven't paid my last year's income tax."

Four examples of the trigger-quick wit of the late President Kennedy:

1. Upon receiving an honorary degree at Yale in June 1962: "It might be said that I now have the best of both worlds: a Harvard education and a Yale degree."

2. An inscription on a copy of a photograph of the President, snapped by Senator Goldwater: "For Barry Goldwater, whom I urge to follow the career for which he has shown such outstanding talent — photography. From his friend, John Kennedy."

3. On appointing his brother, Bobby Kennedy, as Attorney General in 1961: "I see nothing wrong with giving Robert some legal experience as Attorney General before he goes out to practice law."

4. At SHAPE Headquarters in Paris, in June 1961: "I do not think it altogether inappropriate to introduce myself to this audience. I am the man who accompanied Jacqueline Kennedy to Paris—and I have enjoyed it."

CAREY WILLIAMS: "It's a good thing to remember that there wouldn't be any merchants of hate if customers weren't waiting in line to buy their wares."

Great Society Really A Slogan Rather Than Sweeping Change

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's "Great Society" is no vast, radical reform to change the nation's way of life.

IT SEEKS to improve the public services—mainly education, health and housing—and to make them more widely available.

The "Great Society" does not upset the essential balance between state and federal powers.

The "Great Society" programs are not pump-priming gimmicks. They are not likely to throw the budget out of control.

There are two reasons. The president is beginning prudently and is finding it possible to make savings to pay for much of the new spending.

THE TERM, the "Great Society," is an over-fancy, over-alluring political slogan. It overstates and it overclaims. But it is within the bounds of campaign sloganeering from the "Square Deal" (Theodore Roosevelt) to "New Frontier" (John F. Kennedy). As advertising goes, it is a relatively modest piece of political Madison Avenue.

Mr. Johnson is himself the first to affirm that the content of his "Great Society" is not new but is a collection "from the scattered hopes of the American past."

The Johnson program deserves to be greeted without dismay. It need not be viewed with awe, as if it shouldn't be criticized.

IT IS GOING to be criticized. That will be good. The president's program will be closely and coolly examined by Congress, despite the fat 2-to1 Democratic majorities in the House and Senate. Johnson couldn't turn Congress into a rubber stamp if he wanted to—and he doesn't want to.

If the White House is to retain the support of the conservatives, Republican and independent, who liked Johnson in November, it will have to persuade them that the "Great Society" does not mean a new and massive build-up of federal power and control.

The issue is whether the new programs thrust the federal government into areas where it is not needed and where it cannot be fairly justified.

OBVIOUSLY, opinions will vary greatly from the extreme right, which would prefer to dismantle most of the federal government, to the extreme left, which would like to erase state lines almost entirely.

A wise and realistic conservative, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, laid down two principles to measure the proper federal role in financing public services:

Can the states by themselves provide the services which the public needs and deserves?

Can we provide federal assistance without federal control?

On these premises Senator Taft laid down a guide which helps put the new Johnson program in perspective. He said:

"Education is primarily a state function—but in the field of education, as in the fields of health, relief and medical care (he later added housing) the federal government has a secondary obligation to see that there is a basic floor under those essential services for all adults and children in the United States."

I AM NOT suggesting that Taft would like everything about the "Great Society," but his words help define the role of the federal government in aiding the states to improve the "essential public services."

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Retiring CIA Leader Contradicts Johnson

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Central Intelligence Director John McCone is flatly contradicting the Johnson administration's pet thesis regarding the grimly deteriorating situation in South Viet Nam.

THE MOST pressing problem there, McCone holds, is military and not political.

Primary attention and effort should be concentrated on quickly achieving greater combat effectiveness against the increasingly more powerful and successful Communist aggressors, rather than laboriously trying to bring about a "stable government" among the feuding elements in Saigon.

These blunt views were voiced by the CIA head, due to be replaced soon, in his closed-door testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee, which is conducting an extensive study of the ominous South Viet Nam dilemma.

While not directly challenging the administration's "stability first" policy, McCone left no doubt of his emphatic disagreement with it.

"As long as the battle for South Viet Nam is treated as a political rather than a military problem," he told the senators, "there is little prospect of establishing a stable government in Saigon. That is putting the cart before the horse. The key problem is military and not political, and the sooner that is realized and acted on, the better it will be."

GRAPHICALLY underscoring his contention, McCone presented a detailed report on battle casualties and weapons losses in the past three years.

The grim figures revealed mounting South Viet Nam losses in both men and arms. Last year approximately twice as many troops were killed, wounded and missing as in 1962, and nearly three times as many weapons were lost.

In striking contrast, the Viet Cong made gains every year.

Another foreboding development stressed by the Central Intelligence director is that the Communist aggressors now have better weapons and are operating in large organized units.

Total Red forces in South Viet Nam and enemy-held territory in adjoining Laos and Cambodia are estimated at more than 150,000.

THERE IS ALSO increasing evidence, McCone reported, that North Vietnamese officers and non-coms are now functioning with the Viet Cong, both in training camps and combat. While the Reds use all types of weapons, most of them are Russian-made.

McCone flatly opposed U. S. withdrawal from South Viet Nam when questioned by Sen. Strom Thurmond (R-S. C.), who strongly favors expanding the war to North Viet Nam.

"What would be the effect in Southeast Asia if we should call it a day and get out of South Viet Nam?" asked Thurmond.

"IT WOULD BE a major disaster," replied McCone. "That is also the opinion of Ambassador Maxwell Taylor."

"In what way?" continued Thurmond.

"Once our forces were withdrawn," said McCone, "South Viet Nam would go Communist almost at once. After that, it would only be a short time before the remainder of Southeast Asia would go neutralist and then Communist. India, Thailand, the Philippines, Burma, would all go in quick succession.

"WE WOULD SOON be pushed out of the Western Pacific back to Honolulu. That would be the short-term effect. The long-term effect would be even worse."

ART BUCHWALD

Writing For Newspapers Seems Safer Than Delivering Them . . .

WASHINGTON — A man works hard all his life, trying to make something of himself, overcome his poverty-stricken years, and achieve security and happiness. And then all of a sudden one day his son takes on a newspaper route and the man finds himself back where he started from.

THIS HAPPENED to me last week. My 11-year-old son had managed to get himself a newspaper route, but on Saturday he went off on an overnight hike with the Boy Scouts. At 3 o'clock on that rainy afternoon my wife informed me someone had to deliver his newspapers.

"But it's raining out," I protested. "And besides, the North is playing the South in football."

"It's all right," she said, putting on her galoshes. "I'll deliver them. A little rain never hurt someone with a cold and a 101 fever."

"Okay," I said, "I'll deliver the damn papers. What really hurts is I don't even write for the paper he's delivering."

"HERE'S A LIST of the houses," my wife said. "Joel's written down the instructions as to where to get the papers and what to do."

I took the list, put on a raincoat, boots, and rain hat, and went out into the pouring rain.

The truck came along at 4:30. "Where's your bag?" the driver wanted to know.

"What bag?"

"To keep your papers dry, you idiot. How many times do I have to tell you guys to bring your bag when it rains."

"Well, you see, sir, this isn't really my route. It's my son's route. I'm just filling in for him today."

"That's a lousy excuse. Okay, keep them under your raincoat, and next time don't forget your bag."

"Yes, sir. I'll remember."

HE ROARED OFF, splashing water all over my pants.

I studied the list, but it wasn't easy. Between the rain and my son's handwriting it was kind of blurred.

The first two houses didn't give me any trouble, but at the third a man came to the door. "We didn't get our paper last Friday," he said.

"That's a shame," I said. "Actually nothing much happened. You didn't miss anything."

"I'm not paying you for Friday."

"Suit yourself," I said as the rain dripped down on my face. His wife came to the door and pulled her husband away. As she closed it we heard her say, "You shouldn't yell at the poor man. It's probably the only job he could get."

IN THE NEXT block a lady came to the door and said, "I forgot to pay you last week. How much is it?"

"I don't know," I said.

"Well, here's a dollar and a 10-cent tip."

"Thank you, ma'm."

"And the next time please don't throw my paper in the bushes."

BY THIS TIME the list was pretty soggy and I couldn't read it anymore, so I decided the only fair thing to do was to leave a paper at every other house until I ran out.

It worked until I came to one house where an 11-year-old girl ran out and said, "Hey, we don't take that paper."

"It's free," I said.

"You get off our property," she said. A boxer came to the door and started growling.

I stopped running a block later.

IN TWO HOURS, I had gotten rid of all the papers and was back at my house. As I soaked my feet in a pail of hot water and drank a tumbler of hot rum, the thought occurred to me that it's much easier to write for newspapers than it is to deliver them. And healthier, too.

Anger, More Than Modesty, Brings Blush To Lady's Cheek

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

WOMEN BLUSH more often from anger than as a result of shocked modesty.

Some people can tell the seasons by their diseases. For example, both ulcers and gout tend to flare up in the spring and autumn.

The common cold is rarely deadly but it is one of the most expensive of mankind's ailments. It costs the average family from $35 to $40 a year—and it costs industry about five billion dollars annually in lost working time.

The U.S. vice presidency often has been regarded as a step toward oblivion, but eight of the 35 men elected to the presidency, died or were killed while in office, and were succeeded by their vice presidents.

ODD LEGISLATION: A teacher can't give Bible lessons in the public grammar schools of Illinois, but the state by law provides a Bible for every prison inmate.

Great men have their problems, too. Did you know that Napoleon had trouble keeping his trousers up?

Psychiatrists say these are four warnings signals of a possible nervous breakdown: inability to sleep well, lack of appetite and weight loss, mental and physical sluggishness, and exaggerated feelings of guilt and personal worthlessness. Well, thank heavens, I've still got a good appetite left anyway!

SCIENCE MARCHES on: Food firms are working on an aerosol bomb that will enable you to spray a peanut and jelly sandwich mixture.

Some safety slogans for the new year: "If people drove right, there would be more people left." "Be patient today—not a patient tomorrow." "Driving is like baseball in a way. It's the number of times you reach home safely that counts."

Everything is inflated in value today, including people. The statistician who used to tell us that all the chemicals in our body were worth only 97 cents now reports they are worth $2.80.

IT WAS LEWIS Mumford who observed, "Our national flower is the concrete cloverleaf."

Kentfield Group Hits Apartments

Directors of the Kentfield Civic League Monday night agreed to call a special meeting with property owners at Kentfield Corners to try to discourage construction of apartment houses in the area.

The group also reiterated its stand against extension of Wolfe Grade to Bon Air Bridge, saying there would be additional hazards for school children.

The directors agreed to write the county board of supervisors asking that Kentfield be kept "the cultural heart of Marin County." The board will hold a special hearing on the Kentfield general plan at 8 p.m. Thursday in Olney Hall, College of Marin.

Heavy Rains Hurt Paper Mill Cleanup

Three weeks of heavy rain has wiped out cleanup efforts by park rangers and volunteers along Paper Mill Creek in Samuel P. Taylor State Park, Neil E. Power, park supervisor, reported today.

The rains swept junk down from upstream areas, littering the creek with plastic, metal, lumber and "just junk" along the four miles of Paper Mill Creek in the park, said Power.

10 YEARS AGO

"Blood Alley," a story of how Chinese Nationalists and an American intelligence group sought to escape from red-dominated Hong Kong, was to be filmed at Marin's China Camp.

All capital improvements sought for Marin state beaches and parks were deleted from the state budget for the second straight year, except for $70,000 to buy the Sea Downs resort at Stinson Beach as connector for two state-owned areas.

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 20, the 20th day of 1965 with 345 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Mars. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

American figure skating champion Carol Heiss was born on this day in 1940.

On this day in history:

In 1801, John Marshall of Virginia was named chief justice of the Supreme Court.

In 1887, the Senate approved the leasing of Pearl Harbor in Hawaii as a base for the U.S. Navy.

In 1941, Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated for his third term as president.

In 1961, John F. Kennedy took the oath of office as the nation's 35th president.

A thought for the day — President Kennedy said in his inaugural address, "Let every nation know, whether it wish us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and success of liberty."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Adopt Safety Play Only At Right Time In Game

The time to adopt a safety play is when this will assure your contract.

It's foolish to play safe for down one, and pointless to play safe for an overtrick or two.

Opening lead — ♣ 10

West opens the ten of clubs and you ruff the second round of that suit. How do you play the trumps?

LOW TRUMP

If you lead a low trump and finesse with dummy's queen, you go down. East gets a trump trick with the king, and West gets a trump trick also.

Still, it is not surely wrong to try this trump finesse. If you cannot afford to lose a trump trick, the only chance is to try the finesse and hope that West started with the doubleton king. If so, you can pick up all of the trumps without loss.

The important thing is to know whether or not you can afford to lose a trump trick. Begin by leading a heart to dummy's king.

SAFETY PLAY

If this play works, you can afford to give up a trump trick; if the king of hearts fails to win a trick, you must play to avoid the loss of a trump trick.

When the king of hearts wins, you adopt the safety play of leading out the ace of trumps. The king drops, and you have no further problem.

If the king had failed to drop you would return to your hand with a diamond to lead a trump toward dummy. You would lose only one trump trick unless the spades were so badly divided that no play could possibly work.

COSTS POINTS

The disadvantage of the safety play is that you often make 10 tricks instead of 11; but this costs only 30 points (the value of an overtrick).

The advantage of the safety play is that you make your contract when East has the singleton king; you would go down if you took the finesse.

This difference amounts to 500 points. You can afford to giveup 30 points to make sure that you don't lose 500 points.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens the bidding with 1 NT (16 to 18) points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ K
♦ 5 3 2
♣ A Q J 6 4 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three notrump.

The combined count is 26 to 28 points, which is almost surely enough for game at notrump but is not likely to be enough for game at clubs. Don't worry about the singleton in spades; the king will almost surely promote your partner's strength in that suit.

New Chief Is Taking Over Navy Recruiting

Chief Petty Officer Donald W. Kimball has taken charge of the Navy Recruiting Office at 1116 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Kimball, who is a chief lithographer when he is not recruiting, took over the job from Senior Chief Petty Officer William T. Garner of 510 Sunset Parkway, Novato, who will leave Jan. 27 to board the ammunition ship Particulin, based at Concord.

Garner has been here three years.

Kimball is a native of Eugene, Ore. He served in the Army in European airborne forces during World War II, then left the service and worked for three years as a printer in his hometown.

In 1948, he joined the Navy, where he was allowed to pursue his civilian occupation as a military specialty. Since then, he has served in print shops of several ships in the Far East, and put in two years at the Norfolk, Va., Naval Station.

Kimball and his wife, Betty, live at 109 Spring Road, San Rafael. Their 21-year-old daughter, Donna, attends San Diego State College.

Car Changes Lanes, Motor Scooter Tips

S/Sgt. Carl B. Walton, 31, of 692 Morgan Drive, Novato, swerved his motor scooter and tipped it over about 6:55 p.m. Monday when a slow-moving car ahead of him changed lanes. He was treated for skinned knees and hands at the Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

The California Highway Patrol reported Pauline M. Roe, 52, of 278 Alameda De La Loma, Loma Verde, had stopped westbound on Ignacio Boulevard near the west frontage road to Highway 101, and then started up, moving into traffic ahead of Walton's car.

Candy Sale Prize

Noreen Hartly won first prize in Tamalpais High School's second annual candy sale, proceeds of which help to lower the cost of student body cards. Other winners were May Blakemore and Eileen Nagouchi. Profits totaled $900.

New Political Party Forms At Tam High

A new political party has been formed at Tamalpais High School called Students for Efficient Student Government.

Called "SEG" for short by students, it has aims to "improve the students' image," develop responsibility in students to keep the campus clean, improve rallies and "bring in a little controversy to student government."

The party will back two candidates in Friday's student body election, Richard Gilliam of Sausalito for president and Pete Risley of Mill Valley for vice president. Both are founders of the party, according to Jack Arago, party member and Tamalpais News reporter.

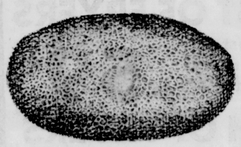
"There is no faculty advisor," said Arago, "which the party thinks is pretty good. We want to be independent."

McCarty Tries For Rod, Gun License

Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) this week introduced a bill that would give Marin Rod and Gun Club a liquor vending license.

Present law forbids liquor vending establishments near state institutions such as San Quentin Prison. McCarthy's SB-131 would exempt the Marin Rod and Gun Club from the ban.

Idaho bakers



package perfectly

Are frozen Idahos as flavorful as fresh Idahos? Absolutely. Idahos acquire their fine flavor in a perfect potato growing environment—high altitude, pure mountain water, mineral-rich soil. The flavor's grown in to stay. Peel 'em or pour 'em—if they're grown in Idaho that meaty, mealy goodness is something you can take for granted.

Remapping Committee Appointed

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— The Senate has appointed a 13-member reapportionment committee and prepared to move ahead with its district lines.

The committee, selected in a week-long series of meetings of the Rules Committee and top Senate leadership, was headed by Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-West Point. This selection had been expected.

It consisted of 10 Democrats and 3 Republicans. The Republican6 members were Sens. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael; Richard J. Dolwig, R-Redwood City, and Vernon L. Sturgeon, R-Paso Robles.

Democrats, in addition to Teale, were:

Sens. Eugene G. Nisbet, D-Upland, vice chairman: Stanley Arnold, D-Susanville; Randolph Collier, D-Yreka; Hugh P. Donnelly, D-Turlock; Virgil O'Sullivan, D-Williams; Aaron W. Quick, D-Calexico; Joseph A. Rattigan, D-Santa Rosa: Thomas M. Rees, D-Los Angeles; and Robert D. Williams, D-Hanford.

Sausalito Park Plan Is Urged

Sausalito recreation commissioners Monday night recommended city council approval of a plan for Langendorf Park and said that a small play area for pre-school age children should be developed as soon as possible in its first phase.

This phase also includes grading and excavating, drainage and construction of a rock retaining wall. The commission is limited for these improvements to $7,500, reported commissioner James E. Muldoon.

Langendorf Park is at Easterby Street and Woodward Avenue.

Field Trip Set

A field trip to three colleges has been planned for Jan. 30 by Chalkdusters, Novato High School chapter of the Future Teachers of America. The students will leave by bus at 7 a.m., going to Stanford University, San Jose State College and Foothill College.

ROBERT BEADLE
Tops in competition

Three Novato Students Win Business Contest

Three Novato High School students won first and second places in contests at the northern section conference of the Future Business Leaders of America last week in Sacramento.

Senior Robert Beadle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Beadle, 481 Wilson Avenue, Novato, won the "Mr. FBLA" award.

Cheryl Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rogers of 112 Iolanthus Avenue, Black Point, tied for first place in spelling competition, and Anne Picchi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Picchi of 725 Eucalyptus Avenue, Novato, placed second in the essay contest.

The winners are eligible to attend the business students' state convention at Disneyland in April.

Novato Youth, 18, Enlists In Navy

James R. Long, 18, son of Jeanne F. Long of 1332 Monte Maria, Novato, has enlisted in the Navy at the San Rafael Recruiting Station, 1116 Fourth Street.

Long, a graduate of San Rafael High School, will be in the high school graduate training program for four years after completing recruit training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego.

AIRMAN HONORED — Airman Robert B. Travers was named "Airman of the Quarter" for the 938th Troop Carrier Group of the 349th Troop Carrier Wing, Air Force Reserve unit headquartered at Hamilton Air Force Base. Travers, who is an investment securities analyst, lives at 2486 East Mar Street, Tiburon.

Real Estate Board Code Forbids Bias

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Members of the San Francisco Real Estate Board have been forbidden to discriminate in the sale of real estate except in cases where the property owner demands it.

A new code announced by the board Monday provides for disciplinary action, including fines, suspension or expulsion, for board members who violate the code.

It calls upon the 3,500 members of the board to "offer equal services to all clients, without regard to race, color, religion or national origin." It also prohibits realtors from taking part in so-called "blockbusting" efforts, in which attempts are made to lower real estate prices by stirring fears that the presence of racial minorities will lower property values.

The code does provide, however, that a realtor "may take a listing which insists on such exclusions (as discrimination), but only if it is done lawfully at the property owner's insistence without any influence whatsoever by the agent (realtor)."

Masonic Lodge Will Install

Horace L. Shadle of San Anselmo will be installed as high priest of Marin Chapter 102, Royal Arch Masons, at the chapter's annual ceremonies at 8:15 p.m. Friday in the San Rafael Masonic Temple.

Other new elected officers are Charles M. Geller, king; Harry E. Fitzgibbons, scribe; Harold G. Sellers, treasurer, and Frank L. Schmidt, secretary.

Appointed officers are Paul M. Richards, chaplain; Jerome A. Starr, principal sojourner; Donald E. Corey, captain of the host; Lafayette Noah, royal arch captain; Edwin N. Kingsland, William H. Niefhoff and David S. Lee, masters of the three veils, and Fred E. Redden, sentinel.

Radio, $30 Stolen

Dr. James Garrett told Corte Madera police today a thief smashed a side window to his office at 81 Casa Buena Avenue last night and took $30 in cash and a $40 table model radio.

a change of heart

Sometimes, a deep change of heart can affect a man's whole pattern of life. He sees things differently. It's the change that comes through a clearer idea of God, when you catch a glimpse of the real meaning and joy of life. Another word for it is reformation. You're invited to hear a one-hour public lecture on this subject by Otto Bertschi of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. Title: "The Meaning of Reformation." Everyone is welcome to come and listen.

TV REVIEW

'Peyton Place' Mild

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Ever since ABC's evening dramatic serial, "Peyton Place," turned into one of the season's hit shows there have been rumblings about its spicy, daring themes.

The trade paper Variety coined a new word "Sexial," for the serial and reported that in at least one community a movement is under way to persuade the local television station to discontinue it.

"Peyton Place" does have some situations rarely encountered in "The Donna Reed Show" or "The Munsters."

But the ripples caused by the show's plots and subplots could only have been made by persons unaware of what has been going on for years in the daytime serials.

A friend who keeps an eye on a half dozen of them finds "Peyton Place" pretty mild stuff. In one of the daily diversions, a girl graduate of reform school and prison has married a nice young man for money but continues to have an affair with the thief with whom she once lived and by whom she is having a child.

"Peyton Place" characters, if measured by the daytime soap opera yardstick, obviously are about as naughty as Elsie Dinsmore.

Community Club Plans Show

The Novato Community Club will present a special variety show for the benefit of the march of dimes on Feb. 27 at the Novato Community House, directors decided Monday night.

The spring bash will be "Two Sheets to the Wind," a "Musical Mystery" written by Bob and Marie Comaduran, Alex Consagra, Chris Kollgard and Donald Leaf. Leaf will direct the show. It will be presented April 30 and May 1, 7 and 8.

Auditions Slated At Little Theater

The Hamilton Little Theater Guild will hold auditions for its third play, "Nightmare" in Theater No. 2 at Hamilton Air Force Base from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and from 7 to 9:30 p.m. next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Nightmare," by Jean Lee Latham, is a three-act modern murder mystery. The script calls for three men and three women. Geoffrey Baril will direct the play, to be presented in mid-April.
